MORRELL TO BE ARRESTED

WARRANT IS ISSUED TODAY

Warrant Out for Injured Inventor of Airship, Who Is Accused of Misrepresenting Certain Stocks.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Although
A. Morrell, inventor of the Morrell airship which made such a spectacular but disastrous ascent on Saturday, is lying seriously injured, and with both legs broken at the Roosevelt Hospital, Berkeley, a bench warrant was issued for his arrest this morning after he failed to appear in Judge Lawlor's court to answer to a charge of violating section 554 of the Penal Code.

Morrell is accused of falsely representing certain stocks and was held to answer in the police court. No mention was made of Saturday's accident in the proceedings today, but the usual course of issuing a warrant for his arrest was gone through with. It is probable he will have an attorney in court tomorrow to represent him.

HARRY K. THAW IS NOT TO BE RELEASED

Court Rules That the Slayer of Stanford White Is Still Insane

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 25.—
Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, will not be released from the lunatic asylum. This is the decision rendered by Justice Morschauser of the Supreme Court, in an opinion filed early this morning in the matter of Thaw's application for release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Dangerous Lunatic.

Both points brought up by Thaw's attorneys are decided against him. The Justice declares that Thaw is now insane and should not be allowed at large,
and he further declares that the commitment to the lunatic asylum by Justice Downing after the last trial of the case was entirely legal.

Thaw's lawyers will today apply to the court for permission to place Thaw in some other institution than the Mat-tewan asylum and by stipulation with the district attorney the prisoner will be kept in the jail here until Justice Mor-schauser renders a decision.

The Justice is holding court at White Plains this week and will not be able to

ALMOST KILLED BY SPEEDING AUTO

Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Quayle of Chicago Is Made a Bishop
New Prelate Elected by the Methodist Conference

BALTIMORE, May 25.—The Rev. Dr.
William A. Quayle, pastor of St. James Church, Chicago, and a lecturer and author of wide reputation, was elected bishop on the tenth ballot at the general conference of the M. E. Church, thus breaking the deadlock which has existed since the second ballot.

The vote which was taken last Saturday and counted today resulted as follows:

Total 534; necessary to elect, 488.

William A. Quayle, Chicago, 619; Wilson S. Lewis, Sioux City, Iowa, 432; Homer C. Stuntz, Madison, N. J., 458; Charles W. Smith, Pittsburg, 444; Robert McIntyre, Los Angeles, 389; Edwin
H. Hughes, Greenacres, Ind., 387; David
G. Downey, New York, 317; Joseph Hingley, Minneapolis, 168; Daniel Dorchester Jr., Pittsburg, 160; Richard J.
Cook, New York, 144; M. C. B. Mason
(colored), 13; Henry C. Jennings, Cincinnati, 12; Charles L. Goodell, New York, 11; Frank M. Bristol, Washington, D. C., 107.

Another ballot was taken for the remaining bishops yet to be named, but there was no election.

THE REV. DR. WILLIAM A.
QUAYLE OF CHICAGO
WHO WAS ELECTED A
BISHOP OF THE METH-ODIST CHURCH TODAY.

hear the application before next week.

Decision of the Court.

Justice Morschauser's decision is as follows:

Upon application duly made a writ of habeas corpus was allowed by which Harry K. Thaw was directed to be produced in court. In the petition it is alleged that said Thaw is illegally imprisoned and restrained of his liberty by Amos T. Baker, acting superintendent of Mattewan State hospital, a State institution for the insane.

Thaw's detention is attacked upon the grounds:

First.—That he is now sane.

Second.—That the act and the provisions of which he was committed and detained is unconstitutional and the court was without jurisdiction to issue the order of commitment and such order was null and void.

The return in the writ alleges that the said Thaw is now insane and that the statute providing for the confinement of said Thaw is constitutional and valid.

HENEY ARRESTED FOR VIOLATION OF THE LAW

Francis J. Heney, better known as "special prosecutor" for Rudolph Spreckels, was stopped by the "flying squadron" of the Oakland police department yesterday afternoon while racing out Eighteenth street in his automobile to catch a boat at the Oakland mole, and his chauffeur, H. Crumpton, was arrested on a charge of violating the speed limit law. Crumpton appeared before Police Judge Smith this morning, pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $10 imposed upon him. Crumpton was unaccompanied in court and left at once for San Francisco after appearing the $10 gold piece from a bunch of coin in his pocket.

Lacked Cash Bail.

When the automobile was stopped by Policeman Con Keefe, it was whizzing out Eighteenth street toward the mole at a rate much greater than is allowed by law, according to Keefe and Policeman Flynn of the "flying squadron." Neither the chauffeur nor Heney had the necessary cash bail of $50. Heney located a telephone and appealed for lenience to Captain of Police Lynch and Police Judge
Smith. After considerable telephoning Crumpton was allowed to go his way on his own recognizance after Heney appeared and promised to see that the chauffeur appeared in court this morning to answer the charge.

Policeman Keefe reported that

Crumpton was inclined to assert his dignity as chauffeur for the prosecutor and made strenuous objection to his arrest. He was politely but firmly informed that nothing was doing in the way of immunity on this side of the bay and when told that he was in danger of being subjected to a second arrest for talking too much, he kept silence, after promising to be on hand for trial today.

Forfeited Bail.

Others who were arrested yesterday for exceeding the speed limit were called in the police court this morning for trial. Chester Lincoln forfeited his bail of $5 for exceeding the limit on a motor-cycle. Harry Swenson pleaded guilty and was fined $10. A. J. Coffee, Pacific Coast manager of the Gamewell Fire Alarm System, forfeited his bail in the case of Dr. C. Jansen, a San Jose physician, was stricken from the calendar as was that of B. D. Merchant, no complaints having been filed, while Albert Schwabacher, a San Francisco merchant, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10.

The "flying squadron" is at this time paying particular attention to the automobiles who are in the habit of speeding out Eighteenth street, there being but little heed paid to the law by those who are hurrying for a boat at the Oakland mole.

SUBSTITUTE BURNED FOR MRS. GUNNES

La Porte Murderess Said by Acquaintance to Have Escaped From Home in Man's Clothes.

LA PORTE, Ind., May 25.—
That the body of Mrs. May O'Reilly, who disappeared from Rochester, N. Y., last fall, was substituted by Mrs. Gunnes for her own in the fire is the latest theory advanced by Attorneys Darrow and Worden, counsel for Ray Lamphere. They also claim to have secured evidence to substantiate such a conclusion.

LA PORTE, Ind., May 25.—Mayor Darrow and his law partner, H. X. Worden, who represent Ray Lamphere, charged with the murder of Mrs. Belle Gunnes and three children, are greatly excited over the receipt of a letter from a man

COUNSEL FOR CALHOUN DEMAND SPEEDY TRIAL

In Spite of Protest Cases Are Again Continued

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—In the absence of Superior Judge Frank Dunne, Judge Lawlor occupied the bench in Department 6 of the Superior Court this morning, and continued the cases against Abraham Ruef until Monday next on motion of Assistant District Attorney William Hoff Cook.

In regard to the Parkside matter, Attorney Murphy, representing the defendant, stated that he would reserve all objections pending his motion to disqualify Judge Dunne, which is to be heard when the cases are definitely set for trial.

All Cases Continued.

Judge Lawlor in his own department, with the consent of counsel, continued
the cases of Abraham Ruef, Patrick Calhoun and Tiley L. Ford, indicted on three counts by the present grand jury, until Monday next.

Attorney Murphy desired a longer continuance, stating that Mr. Ach would be present.

FURNITURE FOR SALE

The furniture of the 16-room lodging-house No. 235 Eleventh street, corner Webster street, will be sold at private sale commencing at 11 a. m. Tuesday,
May 26. The house is for rent cheap.
See J. A. Munro on premises.

Veeber & Astley to sell their fine stock of furniture, carpets, piano, fixtures, etc., at public auction on account of retiring from business. Sale Wednesday, May avenue, near Twenty-first street, Oak-gan, antique mahogany pieces, old oak lor pieces, couches, choice line of pictures (some by Keith), fine line of ranges and heating stoves, type-writer, roll top desk, saloon bar, one safe, computing scale, fixtures, etc. All must and will be sold.

phone Oakland 4671.

leave this week for New York to be gone about ten days, but the court stated that he thought counsel at bar was sufficient to participate in the motion to set aside which is to be heard on that date.

Attorney Moore stated that he would subpoena the grand jurors to be present and give their evidence on the date set.

Demands Speedy Trial.

When the old indictments found by the Oliver grand jury against Patrick Calhoun, Thorne Mully, Tiley L.
Ford and William M. Abbott were called,
Assistant District Attorney O'Gara requested a continuance until June 5.

Continuance Granted.

He protested that one of the charges against Calhoun be selected from the group, but the court granted the continuance, taking opportunity to admonish the District Attorney that in case he was deserving of a continuance, he must give the United States marshal a writ's notice, so that he can proceed to this city.

Ruef Must Have Permit.

Ruef's attorney asked for an order from the court permitting Ruef to leave the county jail to confer with his attorneys in preparation for the trial, but the request was denied. The sheriff was refused to permit Ruef to leave the jail except to attend the sessions of the court.

ABSOLUTELY DENY SECRET MARRIAGE

Anna Gould and De Sagan Will Be Married in France

PARIS, May 25.—M. Cachard, attorney for Mrs. Anna Gould, who is at present engaged in preparing the contract for Mrs. Gould's marriage to Prince Heli De Sagan, authorizes the Associated Press to deny absolutely the story that the couple were secretly married at Hoboken, N. J., on the eve of their departure from America last month.

Opposition Withdrawn.

As already stated in these dispatches the Gould family's opposition to the marriage has been withdrawn. The marriage will take place soon, the French law requiring that the bans be published ten days in advance of the wedding.

There will be both civil and religious ceremonies, the latter under the Protastant rite.

The couple will be married under what is known in France as the "separation of property regime," each party to remain in absolute control of his or her own fortune, which in the event of death shall not pass to the survivor but to the heirs of the deceased.

Will Reside in France.

After the marriage the couple will reside in France to the idea of selling Mrs.

Gould's magnificent mansion on the Avenue Malakoff and her country seat, the Chateau Marais, and living abroad, as contemplated having been abandoned.

Count Boni in Doubt.

The count, however, is not yet apprised of the exact situation, as he imagines that Mrs. Gould is still hesitating with regard to the marriage. He counts upon the continued opposition of George Gould, who, he says, is expected in Paris within a fortnight.

There is an intimation from sources friendly to Mrs. Gould that Count Boni would not dare to bring suit for the custody of his children as it would assuredly provoke the revelation of cer-

WAS RIDING A MOTOR CYCLE

Thrown High Into Air by the Heavy Car.

Miraculous Escape From Instant
Death—Women in Auto-Decline to Give Their Names.

John Hawson, superintendent of the Pacific ship yards, and residing at 1212
High street, Alameda, had a narrow escape from death this morning when a motor cycle he was riding on was struck by an automobile on the Webster street
roadway opposite the United Engineering Works in Alameda. He was hurled along the roadway for several feet by the auto, which was driven by a youth named W.
Smith, who gave his residence as Fruit-vale.

Three women, whose names Smith refused to divulge, were in the machine at the time.

Hawson rode his motor cycle out of the roadway which leads to his engineering works and headed for Oakland. He says that he did not see the auto and did not know that it was near him until he was hurled into space. Smith, the chauffeur, claims that he did not see Hawson go out onto the road until he was upon him and that, although he tried to swerve the machine, the collision occurred.

Smith stopped the auto and went to Hawson's assistance. The women in the machine seemed much perturbed over the accident. Hawson was taken to the receiving hospital in the auto and it was found that he had sustained several severe lacerations of the head and body.
His scalp was cut and his arms and legs contused by the fall on the concrete roadway.

A large crowd gathered about the scene of the accident and several declared that Smith was going too fast and that the collision could have been avoided had he been going slower.

NEW YORK, May 25.—An interlocutory decree of absolute divorce was granted to Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt from Alfred G. Vanderbilt by Justice O'Gorman in the Supreme Court today. Mrs.
Vanderbilt is given custody of the only child, a boy.

Leaves Church to Die on its Lawn

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—While attending services at the Euclid Avenue Methodist Church yesterday, William
A. Burns, 47 years of age, an employe of the city park department, was stricken with rheumatism of the heart after making his way to the lawn in front of the church. Burns expired. He left a widow and seven children.

LICENSE TO YOSEMITE IS A DIAMOND SALOON INVADED BY NATIVES

Supervisors Decide in Favor of Nielsen and Anderson, as Their Petition Conformed to the Law.

In the liquor license case of Nielsen &
Anderson a report was made to the supervisors today by County Clerk Cook that he had made a comparison of the petitioners and protestors in the case, and found that there were withdrawals from each side. The net result, he concluded, stood in favor of the granting of the license by six names.

This saloon is in Diamond and the people of that place have been fighting for a year over its suppression or maintenance.
Previously a report was made to the supervisors that the case was "deadlocked."

Attorney D. S. Oliver, representing the protestors, drew the attention of the board to the fact that there is a "standing" protest against the granting of any license in Diamond and he asked for an opinion from the District Attorney as to whether names may be withdrawn from such a public document.

Chairman Mitchell said that an ad had to be fixed somewhere for the transfer of names, and it had been decided to close the books last Monday.

Question of Colonizing.

Mr. Oliver said that in the case of one of the signers he had ascertained that the name of a property owner had been incorrectly recorded. He charged that on a previous occasion some "colonizing" had been done and that an "int-mad" party had decided a piece of property to a man named Augustin, so that he could sign the petition, but had mislabeled the name.

Chairman Mitchell declared that the board will not stand for "colonizing" in such matters and asked if Mr. Oliver had proof to support his statement.

Mr. Oliver said he did not accuse the present applicants with having "colonized." The work was done in a previous case.

Supervisor Bridge said that he made an investigation and a real estate broker told him that he sold the property to Nielsen. Bridge did not think that the incorrect spelling of the name was material.

In this view the majority of the board concurred and the license was granted by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Mitchell, Kelley,
Bridge and Horner—4.
No—Supervisor Rowe—1.

Chairman Mitchell announced that hereafter any person signing a saloon

Sons of the Golden West Begin Sessions of Grand Parlor in the Picturesque Valley.

Yosemite, May 25.—More than 400 additional Native Sons and their friends arrived today, making this one of the most numerous attended sessions of the Grand Parlor in the history of the order. The greatest enthusiasm and good feeling prevails and a delightful session is assured.

Excursions in all directions were enjoyed by the visitors yesterday, but with the calling of the Grand Parlor to order at 10 o'clock this morning the work which has called the delegates together has begun.

One Fight.

There is one fight for office that overlooks all other in point of interest.
It is between H. E. Lichtenberger of Los Angeles and Thomas Monahan of San Jose for third grand vice president. It is conceded to be a close fight. There is a pretty contest on between Louis Ebb of San Francisco and "Conny" Brown of Martinez for grand marshal.

Berkeley Boosters.

C. E. Abbott of Berkeley is making a whirlwind campaign for Frank McAllister of the same order for outside sentinel. Joseph Rose of San Francisco, J. F. Lawson of Woodland and Julius Epstein of Olympus Parlor,
San Francisco, are making an active fight for the same office. The present outside sentinel is William Fitzgerald, but it is understood that he is to be elected inside sentinel at this session.

Grand Trustees.

There are a number of aspirants for the grand trusteeship, among them

CHICAGO, May 25.—A young woman artist and poet and a man who had a reputation as a writer of verses committed suicide yesterday. The girl was Miss Florence Ferrin, and her body was found in Zion City, where she had lived.

The man was Dr. Howard N. Lancaster, a Chicago dentist. He ended his life with a pistol.

SPLENDID WORK DONE BY CONGRESSMAN KNOWLAND HARRY K. THAW NOT TO BE RELEASED

LEGISLATION HE SECURED FOR THIS DISTRICT

Third District's Representative Has Had His Eye on Every Consequential Matter of Benefit to Constituents.

Many Measures of Vital Importance to the National Welfare Acted Upon by the Present Congress.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland arrived from Washington last night and went at once to his home in Alameda. Mr. Knowland expects to leave for the Yosemite Valley tonight. When seen today Mr. Knowland said:

"It was the Fifty-ninth Congress that placed upon the statute books the railroad rate law, the pure food act and other important legislation. While the first session of the Sixtieth Congress, just drawing to a close, has perhaps not enacted as many laws of general public interest, it has by no means failed to give the country some very beneficial legislation. When I left Washington some important matters were still in conference, making it impossible to give at this time an accurate recapitulation of all the laws enacted.

Employee's Liability.

It will be recalled that the employers' liability law enacted at the last session of Congress was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. This law was re-enacted to meet the objections of the court, making it apply only to the class of cases to which the decision said it could constitutionally apply.

Compensating Injuries.

"Another measure of vital interest to labor was the bill granting to certain employees of the United States the right to receive from it compensation for injuries sustained in the course of their employment. The law applies to artisans and laborers employed by the government in any of its manufacturing establishments, arsenals or navy yards. Under the provisions of the act, injured employees receive for one year thereafter, unless sooner able to resume work, the same pay they would receive if they continued to be employed. In case of death a year's salary is paid to the family of the deceased. This law will apply to nearly 50,000 employees, including those engaged in the construction of the Panama canal. It is certainly a most just measure.

Testing Railroad Rate Law.

"A number of amendments were pro-

HON. JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND, REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS FROM THE THIRD DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA, WHO RETURNED FROM WASHINGTON YESTERDAY.

posed to the railroad rate law, but the consensus of opinion, both of Congress and the Interstate Commerce Commission, was that the present law be given a fair test before any important amendments were agreed upon. At the request of the President and commission, however, Congress appropriated $500,000 for a statistical and accounting department, thus enabling the commission to become more familiar with the intricacies of railroad bookkeeping.

Controlling Child Labor.

"Congress set an excellent example to the country by enacting a law preventing child labor in the District of Columbia and Territories of the United States. No subject is of greater importance to the country at present, and it is hoped that this law will be a model for the various States to pattern after.

"The pension of every widow, minor child, or helpless minor, of an officer or enlisted man who served ninety days or more in the army or navy during the late civil war is increased to $15 per month. The widow must have married the soldier prior to June 30, 1893.

Emergency Currency.

"It is a great disappointment to many that there was no currency legislation at this session beyond the passage of an act which provides for a commission to study the whole question and report to Congress at the December session. There existed such a wide diversity of opinion among experts that no plan appeared to meet general approval. The committee on banking and currency of the house failed to report any measure that met the views of a majority; the result being a Republican conference was called, and, after two nights of full and free discussion, a committee of five was appointed to draft a bill providing for an emergency currency.

Knowland a Member.

"It had the honor of being chosen a member of this special committee. In drafting a measure the committee took as a working basis the Vreeland bill, providing for the formation of national clearing house associations for the issuance of emergency currency, the currency issued to be identical with the present banknote issues. The bill was purely an emergency measure, and I believe would have proved workable and generally satisfactory, preventing a recurrence of conditions such as prevailed last year. The Republican conference took this view of it at least, for the bill was adopted by an overwhelming vote, and was later passed by the house. In conference, however, Senator Aldrich insisted on his bill, which could never have passed the house owing to Western opposition, and a deadlock resulted. The whole discussion will prove beneficial and will result eventually in needed amendments to our present national banking laws.

Caring for Mare Island.

"At the opening of Congress a determined fight was started against the Mare Island navy yard. Parties interested in injuring the yard went to the expense of sending to members of Congress neatly bound scrap books containing clippings from various sources reflecting upon Mare Island. These anonymous attacks were followed by an open attack upon the floor of the House by Representative Lilly of Connecticut, who has recently been discredited by his colleagues by an overwhelming vote. Notwithstanding these attacks the Mare Island navy yard was well taken care of in the naval appropriation bill—a commission was appointed to examine the channel for the purpose of recommending a plan to insure a permanent depth to meet the requirements of the increasing draught of battleships and what was still more gratifying, there was secured for the yard the building of a second steel collier.

Building a Collier.

"Rapid progress is being made on the collier Prometheus, and as soon as it is launched work will commence on the new collier, thus insuring the retention at the yard of the present efficient force of mechanics.

More Than a Million.

"The building of this collier at Mare Island means the expenditure in this State of one million, eight hundred thousand dollars, a large part of which sum will go into the pockets of California workmen.

"As was generally understood, following the usual custom of a bill every two years, there was no river and harbor bill at this session. I had hoped that the committee might be induced to report an omnibus measure providing for surveys only, but Chairman Burton and other members of the committee expressed themselves as failing to see that much would be gained at this time by such a bill.

Oakland Harbor.

"At the last session of Congress your representatives secured for Oakland harbor every dollar asked for by the local commercial bodies (nearly half a million dollars, the largest single amount ever before obtained), this amount being deemed more than sufficient to complete the approved project. The bids for dredging recently opened were so far in excess of former bids upon which estimates were made that the amount is not going to prove adequate to complete the work. It is explained that former bids were lower because of advantageous sub-contracts entered into by the former contractors for material furnished for the filling in certain tracts of land. These contracts could not be obtained this year, it is claimed. Senator Perkins and I had several conferences with General Mackenzie, urging upon him the importance of rushing the work in its effect and for many ways most beneficial. The last note of opposition to the cruise has died away. The visit of the fleet has done more to impress upon the country the need of more adequate defenses and dockage and repair facilities on the Pacific coast than could have been accomplished by a propaganda extending over a period of years.

Alameda's Public Building.

"California fared well in the public buildings bill. Alameda secured an appropriation of $120,000 for a site and building. Of the buildings and sites throughout the United States provided for by the bill there were eight sites that secured larger amounts, and of these eight, six obtained only $5000 more than Alameda.

"Officers and enlisted men in the army, navy, marine corps, revenue cutter service and light-house service were granted substantial increases in pay which were much needed, and will be very welcome to the men and their families.

Effect of Fleet Visit.

"It is now generally admitted throughout the East that the visit of the fleet to Pacific waters is going to be far-reaching in its effect and for many ways most beneficial. The last note of opposition to the cruise has died away. The visit of the fleet has done more to impress upon the country the need of more adequate defenses and dockage and repair facilities on the Pacific coast than could have been accomplished by a propaganda extending over a period of years.

Taft's Nomination.

"It is the consensus of opinion in Washington that Secretary Taft will be nominated on the first ballot at the Republican national convention, and that Bryan will be the Democratic nominee, although it is claimed in Washington that he has lost ground of late. I am surprised at the number of Democratic congressmen who, in private conversation, declare that they believe it a mistake to nominate Bryan, expressing the belief that with Johnson or some other new man they would have a chance to win, although they admit that Taft is the strongest candidate the Republicans could nominate outside of Roosevelt. Secretary Taft and Manager Hitchcock were very much gratified at the endorsement given Taft by the California convention.

and that the court had jurisdiction to make the order of commitment. The return is traversed by the relator.

Review of the Case.

The events leading up to the commitment of Thaw are in brief as follows:

On June 25, 1908, Thaw shot and killed one Stanford White. He was indicted for this act in the county of New York and the indictment charged him with murder in the first degree. On January 23, 1907, he was brought to trial on this indictment and during the progress of the trial, on application of the district attorney, under section 535 of the code of criminal procedure, a commission was duly appointed to ascertain, whether at the time of the trial said Thaw was in a state of insanity, or insanity as to be incapable of rightly understanding his own condition, the nature of the charge against him and of conducting his defense in a rational manner.

Report of Commission.

The commission afterwards returned to the court that it was their opinion that at the time of their examination said Thaw was sane and was capable of understanding his own condition and the nature of the charge against him and conducting his defense in a rational manner. This conclusion was reached in accordance with the purpose of the statute. The trial proceeded and resulted in a disagreement of the jury. On the 6th of January, 1908, said Thaw was committed pursuant to Section 454 of the code of criminal procedure, which reads as follows:

"Section 454.—When defendant acquitted on ground of insanity, the fact to be stated with the verdict—commitment of defendant to State lunatic asylum."

When the defense is insanity of the defendant, the jury must be instructed, if they acquit him on that ground, to state the ground of insanity. The court must, thereupon, if the defendant be in custody, and they deem his discharge dangerous to the public peace or safety, order him to be committed to the State lunatic asylum until he becomes sane.

The question of the constitutionality of this law is assailed by the relator, in that he claims there was no notice given to Thaw of a hearing upon the question of insanity, that no hearing was accorded to him; that he has been deprived of his liberty without due process of law, and that the statute under which he was committed does not provide a method by which his mental condition as then existing could be legally ascertained, or any method by which his sanity could be shown.

Contention of the State.

The people contend that Thaw was not deprived of his liberty without due process of law, because he knew that if he chose to prove upon the trial of the indictment that he was insane when he killed Stanford White, and if that defense was successful and the jury acquitted him of the charge against him on that ground, it became the duty of the court, if it deemed his discharge dangerous to the public peace or safety, to order him to be committed to the State lunatic asylum until such time as he should be legally adjudged sane. He had the right to appear in person and to be represented by counsel and he had the right to introduce evidence of his present sanity.

Had Hearing in Court.

If, upon all the evidence and the verdict of the jury, the court should decide his discharge to be dangerous to the public peace and safety and commit the defendant to an insane hospital until sane, under the provisions of Section 454 of the code of criminal procedure and Thaw having had this opportunity of a full hearing, this right to be present in person and by

was again tried on said indictment and acquitted on the ground of insanity.

Thereupon the learned justice presiding at the trial, upon the evidence made an order rectifying the verdict and that the court deemed the discharge of said Thaw at that time to be dangerous to public safety and directing that said Thaw be detained in safe custody and be sent to the Matteawan State hospital, there to be kept until discharged by due process of law.

The proof and evidence on the part of the respective parties have been ably presented and the matter has been submitted.

Pleading Insanity.

Thaw at the time of his trial for homicide as a defense pleaded insanity and presented a proof to show his insanity at the time of the killing of White and at the time of the offering in his behalf the jury was convinced that he was insane and acquitted him upon that ground.

I am satisfied from the evidence adduced before me that the mental condition of Harry K. Thaw has not changed and I find that he is now insane and that it is so manifest as to make it unsafe for him to be at large.

To review the voluminous evidence adduced before me the hearing would unnecessarily lengthen this opinion and I deem it unnecessary to do so.

Thaw was committed pursuant to Section 454 of the code of criminal procedure, which reads as follows:

"Section 454.—When defendant acquitted on ground of insanity, the fact to be stated with the verdict—commitment of defendant to State lunatic asylum."

When the defense is insanity of the defendant, the jury must be instructed, if they acquit him on that ground, to state the ground of insanity. The court must, thereupon, if the defendant be in custody, and they deem his discharge dangerous to the public peace or safety, order him to be committed to the State lunatic asylum until he becomes sane.

The question of the constitutionality of this law is assailed by the relator, in that he claims there was no notice given to Thaw of a hearing upon the question of insanity, that no hearing was accorded to him; that he has been deprived of his liberty without due process of law, and that the statute under which he was committed does not provide a method by which his mental condition as then existing could be legally ascertained, or any method by which his sanity could be shown.

Contention of the State.

He had the right to appear in person and to be represented by counsel and he had the right to introduce evidence of his present sanity.

counsel, this right of offering proof in his own behalf as to his present sanity and to be heard in his own behalf, there was no violation of Article I, Section 9, of the constitution of the State of New York, nor of Article XIV of the United States constitution.

Neglected Opportunity.

Thaw had the opportunity at the trial to introduce evidence of his mental condition at that time, which he did not do; he should have known that the adjudication of the court would follow a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity; he was represented by able counsel, who urged the jury before whom he was tried upon a charge of homicide, to acquit him because of his insanity.

I have made careful examination of the authorities and I do not find that this statute has ever been passed upon by any of the courts in this State. It has been in existence and operation for many years, many questions, and it is the duty of the court to presume in favor of the validity of the statute until its violation of the constitution is established beyond all reasonable doubt, and upon such a determination the result which may follow from one construction or another is always a potent factor and is sometimes in and of itself conclusive.

Safety of Community.

In construing this statute it should be borne in mind that the safety and welfare of the community is of more importance than the freedom of the individual. It is well settled that where there is a right of an appeal no court should declare in the first instance a statute unconstitutional unless its unconstitutionality is plain, especially when the statute has been long in force and its constitutionality has never been questioned.

This may well be the rule when the effect of a declaration of unconstitutionality would be to free from needful restraint a number of persons of unsound mind of whom it has been adjudged by competent courts that their going to large would be dangerous to the public peace or safety.

The relator claims that the State does not provide a method by which Thaw can be discharged.

Section 9 of the insanity law provides, "Any inmate, not a convict, held upon an order of court or justice in a criminal proceeding may be discharged therefrom upon the superintendent's certificate of recovery, made to and approved by such court or judge."

No Injustice Done.

I believe no injustice has been done to Thaw or will be done to him by depriving him of his liberty until such time as he can be discharged by the method prescribed by law.

Bearing in mind that the usual punishment for the act which led up to the detention of said Thaw is death or a long term of imprisonment and that said Thaw escaped the consequences of such act solely by reason of his existing mental condition, I do not deem it proper to allow Thaw his freedom, suffering as he is from some form of insanity with the possible recurrence of an attack similar to that which the jury believed he was suffering from when he killed Stanford White.

Remanded to Asylum.

In view of the existing mental condition of said Thaw the safety of the public is better insured by his remaining in custody and under observation until he has recovered or until such time as it shall be reasonably certain that there is no danger of a recurring attack of the delusion or whatever it may be.

The writ is dismissed. The order remanding the said Harry K. Thaw can be settled on notice pursuant to stipulation.

Thaw Seems Resigned.

Thaw has accepted apparently with resignation the decision of Supreme Court Justice Morehouse that he is still insane, and that the interests of the public will be best served by denying him liberty. Pending the signing of the papers of commitment, which probably will not be done before a week from next Saturday, Thaw will occupy Sheriff Chandler's suite in the county building here.

May Be Sent Elsewhere.

In the meantime an effort will be made by Thaw's attorneys to induce District Attorney Jerome to consent to the commitment of the prisoner to a State hospital other than Matteawan. It is said that in event of Mr. Jerome giving his consent to such a change no appeal will be taken from Justice Morehouse's decision. Even if an appeal were taken it could not be argued before fall.

There is no denying the fact that the piano trade has not been brisk of late. The Eilers stores were never in better position to offer special inducements to piano buyers. We have gone contrary to the usual custom.

We have bought heavily of late. The factories have made us unusual concessions. We are in a position to pass these advantages along to buyers. There is not a good piano which cannot be found in our stores.

We have Hazeltins, Deckers, Hadcoffs, Schumanns, Schuberts, Crownes, the Story and Clark, also the later day favorites, the Kimball, the Hobart M. Cable and the Ester, as well as Steinways, Knabes, Fischers, Ludwigs, and nearly every other make, nearly everyone fresh and new, direct from the factories.

Let us show you documentary proof that we are selling pianos daily far below regular established retail prices—not an isolated case here and there, but we do so constantly week in and week out.

CAR PLOWS INTO 5: 40 HURT

Two Killed and Many Injured When the Runaway Vehicle Crashes Into Coaches Lower on Grade.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—The street car accident late last night near Chestnut Park hill, in which two persons were killed and more than forty injured, was one of the worst trolley crashes that has occurred here for a number of years.

The dead are:

MARY J. WAGNER, aged 64, of Cornwall, Pa.

CHARLES ALLEBACH of this city.

All the injured probably will recover, although several are in a serious condition.

Six cars, carrying more than two hundred passengers, were involved in the accident.

An open car, heavily loaded, was returning to the city and when on the crest of a steep hill became unmanageable. The motorman shut off the power and applied the brakes. The brake chain parted and the car ran backward down the hill at great speed. It crashed into the car following it and the force of the collision sent the second car back into a third and others cars at the bottom of the hill.

MILLIONAIRE ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Gaston C. Phillip to Plead Self Defense for Shooting Cabman Dead in Hotel Corridor.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The trial of Gaston C. Phillip, the millionaire chairman of New York and Washington and son of a prominent family, who a year ago shot and killed Frank B. Macaboy, a cab driver, was begun today before Justice Job Bernard in criminal court No. 2.

Vigorous efforts will be made by counsel for the young clubman to substantiate his plea of self-defense, and sensational testimony will, it is said, be brought out by the prosecution.

The two men went to the Arlington Hotel, where Phillip was a guest, after an all night ride in the latter's automobile. It is said they had quarreled over a fee Macaboy demanded for acting as guide. Phillip was followed to his room by Macaboy. An altercation occurred and a shot was fired. Macaboy was found on the corridor floor with Phillip leaning over him, pistol in hand. Phillip was persuaded to go to his room and was soon asleep, not realizing that he had fatally wounded his companion, who later died in a hospital.

Since his release under heavy bail, Phillip has been leading a quiet life at Claverack, where the Phillips have a beautiful country home.

OCEAN VIEW'S AMBITION MEETS WITH OPPOSITION

Berkeley Citizens Object to Incorporation

When the Supervisors met this morning the board room was filled with citizens who attended to express their views on the different matters to be discussed.

Among those present were several residents of Berkeley who attended for the purpose of protesting against the proposed creation of a new township at Ocean View. The proposition as stated is that the Supervisors must decide at once whether the residents of the district lying just north of Berkeley shall be permitted to incorporate as a new municipality in the county of Alameda.

New Capitol Site.
It is held by some attorneys that the formation of a new corporation would shut out Berkeley from all possibility of annexing the land to the north, and that the new proposed capitol site.

Echoes of Feud.
Echoes of a long standing feud were heard in the preliminary talk that took place between opposing factions before the board was called to order.

Two attempts have already been made to bring a part of Ocean View district into Berkeley, but at both elections the residents of the western or bay shore part of the section were able to defeat the annexation plan.

These day shore people sympathize with the feeling of secession that is prevalent in West Berkeley, and that they are likely to continue their opposition to consolidation with Berkeley.

The hill dwellers of Ocean View, on the other hand, hanker for association with cultured Berkeley and have always supported annexation, but their more numerous voters along the water front have outvoted them. Now the proposition has been changed so that West Ocean View has been left out of the proposed new boundaries of the land to be incorporated with Berkeley. This is the latest plan for placating the opponents to consolidation.

The bay shore dwellers, however, are not yet satisfied. They feel that the division between East and West Ocean View gives too generous a slice of land to Berkeley with which corporation they recently had trouble on account of the garbage question.

Before the Ocean View matter was taken up several other questions were disposed of by the board.

Local Option.
Upon a report of Clerk of the Board Wilson that the law has been complied with, precincts 3, 6 and 7 in Fruitvale were declared local option districts.

Claim Against State.
Supervisor Kelley moved the adoption of the following resolution:

Whereas, The State of California is indebted to the county of Alameda for certain sums of money for costs incurred by said county in the collection of State taxes, and

Whereas, By a previous resolution of this board, Messrs. Reed, Black & Reed, and Clarence Crowell, attorneys at law of the county of Alameda, were employed by said county to assist the district attorney for said county in the preparation, presentation and prosecution of said claims in any and all proceedings deemed necessary; and

Whereas, A claim for demand for the allowance and payment of the said sums due to the said county of Alameda has been presented to and made upon A. B. Nye, the controller of said State of California, and has been refused; and it will now be necessary to apply to the courts of this

CLEVER NEW ADVERTISING STUNT

A Large Crowd at the Braley-Grote Furniture Co. to Hear Concert.

The Braley-Grote Furniture Company has ventured a new scheme to advertise their store, which has been a success in their expectations. The idea is to give a musical recital instrumental or vocal, every Saturday night at the store. Last Saturday (yesterday) the Log Cabin (colored) Male quartet sang. People were seen flocking to the store about 8:30 by the hundreds, and the first and second floors of the large store were taxed almost to the limit for seating capacity.

The quartet sang from the balcony, and stood at the farthest end near the railing in good view of all people on both first and second floors, and those darlings sang good old southern melodies in a most harmonious tone that echoed throughout the large store and the enthusiastic crowd showed its appreciation by hearty applause and demanding an encore after each number.

It was announced before the conclusion of the program that on Saturday evening, June 13, the evening will be given to a children's contest program. Children under fifteen years can enter the contest by applying to the advertising manager of the Braley-Grote Furniture Company. This program will, no doubt, surpass all others as it will have children from Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda.

THE TRIBUNE'S best wishes are with this enterprising concern.

W.R. HEARST TELLS OF INDEPENDENCE LEAGUE'S PLANS

NEW YORK, May 25.—The New York Sun printed yesterday in the first column of its first page a statement that William Randolph Hearst was planning to go abroad for three months and argued from this that the Independence Party would be abandoned and intimidated that Mr. Hearst and his friends would support William Jennings Bryan.

The story also declared that Mr. Hearst had had a number of conferences with William J. Connors, chairman of the Democratic State committee. When asked about these statements at his home, 135 East Twenty-eighth street, Mr. Hearst said:

"The best answer to the Sun's imaginative statements will be the events of the next two months. The Independence party has already organized in thirty-three States and I make the statement confidently that on the 27th of July delegates from every State in the Union will assemble at the convention of the Independence party in Chicago.

"I am going abroad now to take a brief rest before the campaign. I shall come back for the convention and for the campaign. I am not a candidate for the nomination myself and have not been, but I am preparing to work to the utmost of my ability for the men whom the convention of the Independence party shall see fit to nominate.

"It is not true that I have abandoned the Independence party; it is not true that I am going to support Mr. Bryan or Mr. Taft or any but an Independence party nominee; it is not true that I have seen Mr. Connors many times, or even once in fact, there is nothing in the Sun's article that is true except the prepositions and the questions marks.

"A conference of Independence party leaders has been called here and from the Far West, from the Middle West, from the South and from New England these leaders are already in the city, ready to plan organization and activity from now on until the convention. That organization will be complete and that activity sufficient to satisfy the Independence party and to surprise both of the old parties."

As the committee of the whole desired to make an investigation of the proposed incorporation of Ocean View before hearing the arguments of Berkeleyans and others interested in the matter, the question was postponed until the next meeting.

DEAN VOTING MACHINES.
In the matter of the contract of the Dean Balloting Machine Company to deliver twenty-five voting machines, the board requested that delivery of the machines be postponed until the 1st of July.

This was done because the district attorney had advised the board that there is not sufficient money on hand to pay for the machines during the present fiscal year which closes June 30.

No! No! No! the prices will not be high in Broadmoor.

PERMIT US, folks, to correct a wrong impression!

—The prices will not be high at Broadmoor. Why, the price feature is the beauty of the whole proposition! You get an acre or a half-acre for what you'd pay for an ordinary building lot.

—Why, some of the best lots 200 feet deep—mind you, two hundred feet deep—sell for $15 a front foot—which is at the rate of $7.50 a front foot for 100-foot lots (the usual depth of city lots).

—To tell the truth, the first lots sold in Broadmoor will be ridiculously cheap—our object in selling them at such prices being simply to give the proposition a good, healthy start.

—You see, gentlemen, it's this way. We sell you a big piece, say a half-acre, at a very low price and upon almost any terms you want.—Then we require that if you build at all you build a house or a cottage or bungalow costing from $2000 to $3500 and that you keep your place up in good shape for your own benefit and the benefit of your neighbors.

—In other words, we help you to build an artistic home by selling you a nice piece of land at a reasonable price, and further encourage art in architecture throughout the tract by giving you every improvement known to modern municipal service.

—We've spent $300,000.00 in fixing up Broadmoor for you. —We've furnished the finest petrolium boulevards in the part of the State —We've installed a hydraulic artesian water system that will be a wonder for efficiency. —We put in a sewer system comparing with any system in any city in America.—We put in electricity, gas, telephones; in fact, we give you a second Hollywood Park, complete in every detail.—All you have to do is to build your house.

—To the man who agrees to build his home at once we give a thousand dollars. —($15,000.00 to be given away to the first fifteen builders.)—We encourage the building of all of the homes immediately.

—Now, we will allow no man to erect a home costing less than $2000—from that the building restrictions range on up to $3500.—But we will talk finance with you if you are in earnest about your part in the beautification of Broadmoor.

—What we want is quality—in building—in home decoration—in gardening—in population—not cash, for money won't be the power in Broadmoor.

—We want the families of earnest business workers in Broadmoor, the kind of families you would like your wife to know and associate with.

—There was never before presented to the people of this vicinity a real estate proposition of the character of Broadmoor.

—It's your duty to your family, to your own future happiness, to look into this matter—it's your duty to investigate it for if it is as good as we say it is you ought to invest.

—And we certainly know enough about advertising to know enough to tell the truth—we wouldn't go to all this expense to get you out to Broadmoor next Saturday if we didn't have the goods to show when you got there.

—It's an absolutely bona fide proposition, gentlemen, and whatever we have to say in the next six days will be mighty interesting reading.—We are getting right down to facts now.

BEANY, TRYING TO OVERTAKE GOAT, EXCEEDS SPEED LIMIT; IS PINCHED—BY 'BUD' FISHER

Great attorney sees missing quadruped and takes desperate chance in flying auto to capture it.

PHOTO OF SPECIAL PROSECUTOR BEANY AS HE APPEARED IN THE OAKLAND JUDICIAL COURT AFTER THE PINCH. HE SAID: "THIS SHOWS THE INGRATITUDE OF THE PUBLIC AFTER ALL I HAVE DONE FOR THEM. I HOPE THAT I WAS SUCCEEDING THE SPEED LIMIT BUT I WAS UNCONSCIOUS OF THE FACT AT THE TIME. THE SIGHT OF THAT GOAT MADE ME OBVIOUSLY OF ALL SPEED LIMITS. I SIMPLY HAD TO PURSUE IT."

DETECTIVE TOBACCO, WHEN SEEN BY A MEMBER OF THE PRESS, SAID: "I AM CONVINCED THAT THE WHOLE THING IS A CASTLE IN THE AIR. I BELIEVE THAT THE GOAT WAS A WOODEN DECOY PLACED THERE PURPOSELY BY THE PLUNDER TO TRAP BEANY INTO GETTING PINCHED. I WILL SAY THIS MATTER TO THE GOVERNMENT IF IT TAKES ALL MY FINGER HADDER DISCUSS."

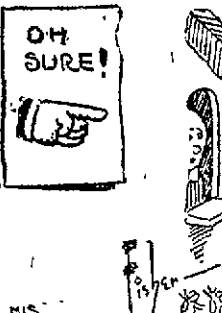

REMARKABLE SHAP SHOT OF PICKETS BEATING IT TO BEAT OUT HIS BOSS. HE SAID: "DON'T ASK ME ANYTHING ABOUT THE MATTER AS I KNOW NOTHING. I AM NOT SUPPOSED TO KNOW. I AM SIMPLY THE CHECK BOOK KID, THAT'S ALL." LITTLE JEFF, WHO WAS WITH HIS FELLOW BOOS AT THE TIME SAID: "A BOOR, BOOR, BOOR BOOS."

DISASTER MUTT, SPEAKING OF THE OPINION ON THE AFFAIR, BLAME BEANY FOR TRYING TO OVERTAKE HIS GOAT, HE IS IN SUCH AWFUL SHAPE WITHOUT IT. NO I DO NOT THINK THEY SHOULD PROSECUTE THE ATTORNEY, IT WOULD BE UNLAWFUL TO PROSECUTE A SPECIAL PROSECUTOR."

WHEN ASKED FOR HIS OPINION ON THE AFFAIR, JUDGE CRAWLER SAID: "I DON'T CARE TO DISCUSS THE MATTER UNTIL AFTER LUNCH."

OH SURE!

TEN ON SAN ALVISO

ONE OF THE GREATEST EMPHATIC OF PUBLIC IN THE HISTORY OF THE STATE WAS ENACTED YESTERDAY WHEN SPECIAL PROSECUTOR BEANY WAS FINISHED FOR EXCEEDING THE SPEED LIMIT IN HIS AUTO, IN AN EFFORT TO OVERTAKE HIS GOAT. OH! RICKLE PUBLIC, THOUGH ARY CRUEL. THINK WHAT BEANY HAS DONE FOR YOU TWO MILLION INDICTMENTS AND ALMOST A CONVICTION.

HUNDREDS FLEE FROM FLOOD

Bridges Washed Out at Dallas, Forcing Railways and Street Car Lines to Suspend Traffic.

DALLAS, Tex., May 25.—The worst flood conditions in years prevail in Dallas today. Trinity river rose from 18 feet at 10. Sunday to 41.5 at 6 o'clock this morning and is still rising. Much distress is likely to result as the water and light plants are flooded and have closed down. One man, name unknown, was drowned.

The village of West Dallas, across Trinity river, is partially inundated and hundreds of families are being forced to seek higher places. The Commerce street bridge across Trinity river has been partially washed away and there is no travel between the city and suburbs on the west bank. Street car bridges are under water and traffic has been suspended.

Railway Lines Out.
Traffic on the interurban between this city and Fort Worth has been discontinued. A section of the Texas and Pacific Railroad bridge has been washed away and service to the West has been abandoned. A section of the Santa Fe Railroad bridge has gone down and traffic has been discontinued. The financial loss will be heavy. A number of cattle and horses were swept away by the flood.

School Board Split.—Santa Rosa: The people of the Anny High School district, which recently has been formed, are involved in a bond issue difference. At the meeting held by the Board of Trustees a bond issue of $35,000 was to have been called for, but a petition signed by sixty of the residents of the new school district was presented asking that the matter be reconsidered. Some of those present claimed they were not in favor of the call for such high bids for the new school at this time.

YOUNG BRICKLAYER SAID TO BE WORLD'S MARVEL AS BARITONE

(By MALCOLM CLARKE.)

BERLIN, March 23.—What is described by the German papers as "one of the most marvellous baritone voices ever listened to," has been discovered in Berlin, the possessor being Berthold Pusch, a young bricklayer, who has just entered his nineteenth year.

The discovery was made in somewhat romantic fashion by a gentleman who is an enthusiastic musical amateur. Passing a house in the process of building he heard a song rolled out in a voice of surpassing richness. When it was finished he sought the singer, who proved to be a bricklayer at work on the building. He is having Pusch's voice trained for the Royal Opera at his own expense.

NEW DIRECTORY SHOWS A LARGE POPULATION

Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Have Not Less Than 313,836 Residents

The 1908 directory of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, published by the Polk-Husted Directory Company, is now ready for distribution. The volume, which is the largest directory ever published in this city, was printed by THE TRIBUNE PUBLISHING COMPANY and is a handsome example of the printer's art.

In the preface, the publishers say:

No Expense Spared.
"Great care has been taken in this, the twenty-first annual issue of the Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda city directory, equal if not superior to its predecessors. No pains nor expense have been spared to make it complete, thorough and accurate. To successfully compile the minute details of a directory for a city of the proportions of Oakland is a work which only experience and the operation of a perfect system can make possible and valuable."

"Men well qualified for the work have visited every dwelling in the city, have visited every workroom and office, and persistently and patiently plied their questions; have hunted up citizens in the remote and obscure locations, ascertained the names of those residents who are temporarily absent from the city, and of all the humble citizens whose circumstances force them to move frequently."

Population of Cities.
"This directory contains 75,712 names of adult residents of Oakland; 16,378 for Berkeley and 11,522 for Alameda; an increase of 428 since the last issue. Applying the usual multiple to represent the women and children whose names are not taken, the population of Greater Oakland at the present time is 313,836.

"A general directory is maintained by this company at its office, 908 Broadway room 43, for the free use of its patrons and the public generally. This library contains the directories of all the principal cities of the union, and the citizens of Oakland may, therefore, communicate with the entire country."

In Every Library.
"The Oakland city directory is placed in the libraries of the directory of cities in all the important cities of the country, where it is frequently consulted by non-residents and travelers, and where it serves as a lasting advertisement for the city, its business men and its public and private institutions."

I KILLED; MANY HURT IN WRECK

Car Runs Away Down Hill and Crashes Into Passenger-Laden Coach.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—A car on the Mission and Chutes car line, loaded with men, women and children, was rammed yesterday afternoon by a car on the Sutter and Jackson streets line at the corner of Devisadero and Sacramento streets, thrown on its side, driven on the pavement for a number of feet, with the result that one of the passengers was killed instantly, a babe was so badly injured that it is expected to die, and twenty other people were badly bruised and shaken up.

Killed and Injured.

The killed and injured are as follows: ERNEST WOODWARD, clerk in passenger department of Southern Pacific, lives at 1554 Twenty-seventh street; extensive lacerated wound of the scalp and left eyebrow.

MRS. WILLIAM MILEY, 981 Capp street; contusion of back.

WALTER ZWIG, 2597 Howard street; slight contusions.

MATHEWS JORDAN, teamster, 418 Devisadero street; contusions of left hip and back.

FRANCIS J. DONOGHUE, miner, 354 Lexington avenue; contusions of left side and chest.

MRS. J. A. FISKE, 1116 Cole street; injured spine, contusions of right arm and back. Husband and baby escaped injury.

TWO UNKNOWN WOMEN, mother and daughter, taken to 2105 Devisadero street. Elder woman sustained severe lacerated wound of the ear, scalp and hand.

HENRY BAER, traveling man, brother of Dr. Adolf B. Baer, 3757 Clay street, killed.

MRS. MARGARET HARRIMAN, 21 Precita avenue, sprained wrist.

BABY HARRIMAN, 8 months old, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Harriman; probable fracture of the skull; may die.

MRS. BOAZ D. PIKE, 1918 Sacramento street; contusion of left eye.

BOAZ D. PIKE and daughter, suffering from shock.

ALEXANDER MACDONALD, Sixth avenue and Clement street; severe lacerations of throat.

MRS. WILLIAM PETERS, wife of Dr. William Peters, 122 Eighteenth street; suffering from shock.

MRS. HETRICH, 2230 Pacific avenue; slight contusions.

MRS. FARRELL, 2830 Twenty-first street; abrasions left elbow and back of hand.

Track Was Oiled.

The only persons aboard the Sutter cars were the conductor and motorman, respectively, J. W. Baker and E. Geisler. They were not hurt. The car was on its way to get out on its regular run for the afternoon. For the purpose of reaching one of the terminals of the run the car was taken down the hill on Devisadero street near Sacramento. The track on which it was running had not been used for some time and was covered with the oil which had dripped from automobiles. This made the vehicle unmanageable, and although the motorman applied the emergency brakes and did everything in his power to check the speed of the descent, he was powerless to do so, and as a consequence the car crashed into the Mission street car.

PARALYZED WHILE STANDING IN STORE

William Carlon fainted while standing at a cigar store at 45 San Pablo avenue yesterday and when taken to the Receiving Hospital it was found that the left side of his body was paralyzed and that he was suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage. He is still at the hospital and it is thought that he will recover. Carlon resides at the Central Hotel.

VETERANS HEAR PRAISE OF DEAD

Soldiers and Members of Relief Corps Attend Special Memorial Services.

Memorial Day services were held in most of the churches here yesterday. Special music had been prepared for the occasion and the congregations were composed largely of veterans.

At the Plymouth Congregational Church, Piedmont avenue and Howe street, Rev. Alfred W. Palmer addressed the men of Appomattox Post and the Women's Relief Corps of Appomattox; G. A. R. Company A, Veterans Reserves and Blackman Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. Dr. Palmer's subject was "The Ultimate Nation."

The Rev. G. M. Raymond of the Central M. E. Church addressed the men of Lyons Relief Corps.

The Rev. W. A. Tanner, at the Melrose Baptist Church, chose for his topic, "Then and Now, or Forty Years After." Dr. Tanner began a series of sermons last night on "Some Individuals Who Are Worth Knowing."

Love and Sacrifice.

Rev. Wm. Day Simpson of the First Unitarian Church chose for his subject "The Law of Love and Sacrifice; a Sermon for Memorial Sunday."

"Our Heroes" was the topic of the address of Rev. Geo. L. Spitzer, D. D., at the Fourth Avenue M. E. Church.

The G. A. R. memorial service in the Methodist Episcopal Church on Saratoga avenue, Elmhurst, has been deferred by the pastor, Rev. A. J. Hanson, D. D., until next Sunday evening, May 31.

Rev. John W. Bleckham spoke in the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church on "The Opportunity of the Church in California" and "How to Live Greatly."

At the Union Street Presbyterian Church, Rev. Geo. L. Spitzer, D. D., preached "On the Power of the Word."

Dr. David Starr Jordan delivered a lecture on "The Strength of Being Clean" to the Methodist, Baptist and Congregational churches of East Oakland at union services in the Eighth Avenue M. E. Church.

MAN OF FUTURE TO BE COLLEGE MAN, SAYS JORDAN

No One Knows His Politics Today, Declares Educator.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, spoke before the Y. M. C. A. last night in Maple Hall. The subject of the address was, "The Call of the Twentieth Century."

Previous to the lecture a quartet composed of Dr. O. S. Dean, E. D. C. Randall, Dr. Roy E. Gilson and Harry L. Holcomb, with Arthur Caldwell as accompanist, sang. Kenneth Fox gave several violin solos, accompanied by Miss Mildred E. Porter.

Dr. Jordan said in part:

"There was a time when a man knew what his politics were. There is not a man here, I venture to say, who knows now or will know what his politics will be after the Roosevelt regime ends."

Equal Opportunities.

"Democracy means opportunity. What we mean by democracy is finding the man who can do things without any fuss or feathers. We want the man who can manage a factory, control a navy or manage a nation. The equality of democracy is in giving all a fair chance. The children of the future men, they start together, but don't come out together. They all had the same opportunity to start with."

"The young man of the future will be a college man, a university man. And I want to say that it is greatly more honorable if you earn $300 a year to go to college than if your father gave you $2,000 and sent you to college."

Busy Brains

Child Suicide--Its Reasons.

The growing frequency of suicide among children is becoming the subject of discussion among the theorists. It has been estimated that between the years 1900 and 1907 there has been an increase of 10 per cent in the number of children who took their lives. These figures are from records taken in thirty-seven of the large cities of the country, and the ages of the victims range from 10 to 19 years.

A pitiful record and one which should carry horror into every heart. While it may be admitted that suicide itself is unnatural, it must be deduced that the growth of this practice among children is truly horrifying.

There can be devolved many excuses for the suicide of mature people. First, the general grounds of cowardice, be it a suicide because of the loss of money or a loss of reputation. The victim has not the moral courage to face the struggle of living down a mistake or its disgrace. The other may be excuses such as disappointment in love, lingering illnesses, or general despondency from a thousand worries answer for mature persons—but they cannot be credited as sufficient or even a logical cause for children.

It is one of the most distressing facts ever laid before the public. It seems there could be no better investigation made by the public educators than this same subject.

What is wrong?
Where lies the cause for such a condition?

Brigadier Alexander Lamb of the Salvation Army anti-suicide bureau in Chicago in commenting on the subject says: "Children live at the same high tension as their parents; they study too hard, too concentratedly, and after the hours of study their sports are keyed to the same tone. We eat highly spiced foods, even among the common people. The rush and roar of the city, the hum and bustle of life take hold of childhood even as of maturity."

He is right in a general way. He offers a set of reasons which partially perhaps explain some of the reasons, but not fully.

Environment and imitation could more properly be intruded as the probable basis for the true reason. Children of this period are prenatally imbued with the strenuousness of present life; they are surrounded by the effects of it, taught by their daily life, and naturally of imitative trend, it is reasonable to believe that a sufficient reason is shown for the evil.

To blame the condition upon schools is erroneous, for the reason that all agree much of the problem of child education lies in the advancement of stronger incentives and stricter laws for education. Each year brings this lesson closer home. Too often are children taken from their schools and thrown into the world of labor to compete so far as hours are concerned, with mature persons. A condition obviously against the laws of nature. Their rapid introduction into wage earning teaches them the great lesson of unrest so prevalent just now. It is here that environment and imitation does its deadly work. The child, for every youth is a child until the laws of nature fit him for mature deliberation and acts, has no chance but to assimilate the great laws of dissatisfaction. They bother the head of those whose teachings nature intends they shall accept as the proper guiding laws.

In seeking a relief for such a horror as child suicide the lance of criticism must open the sores of our own existence. We expect children to be dutiful and obey the scriptural and worldly law of obedience. We teach them by example.

For these reasons there is a burden, which would seem a new one, and yet one more exacting than any other and one fraught with more horrible results if illy performed than any which could be imagined.

It is not theories which bind the condition, but real, stern facts that should be paramount in thought and action.

The talk about nominating Secretary Cortelyou for Vice-President on the ticket with Judge Taft lacks practical wisdom. Secretary Cortelyou is a political protegee of President Roosevelt, and has become a high public functionary without first developing political strength and popularity in his State. His name on the ticket would weaken rather than strengthen it. Two Cabinet officers would hardly be a good running team under existing conditions. Taft will get all the administration strength in New York without the aid of Cortelyou, whose power is merely a reflection of Roosevelt's, and in other States Cortelyou is negligible quantity. Former Governor Frank S. Black would add strength to the ticket in New York, and so would the name of former Governor Murphy of New Jersey. But a candidate from the Pacific Coast would probably be of as much advantage as one chosen from any other section.

Apparently somebody at the Methodist General Conference has been doing shabby politics in favor of some and against other candidates for bishoprics. Stories of a personally defamatory character were freely circulated to the detriment of two leading candidates. And this was not in a political convention but a gathering of churchmen holding the same creed and presumably governed by the spirit of Christ.

The fight in the Democratic ranks to defeat the nomination of Bryan promises to be as futile as the fight in the Republican party against Taft. Like the fight against the Secretary of War, it has become a game of finesse to defeat instructions. But the wish of the party masses is compelling obedience, and Bryan will probably be nominated by acclamation.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt-League organs are now saying the leaguers saved the California delegation for Taft. Only a short time ago they were saying the Taft movement among the regulars was a fake. On the other hand, they are boosting the Democrats with all their might, and doing what they can to make Republican success in November more difficult.

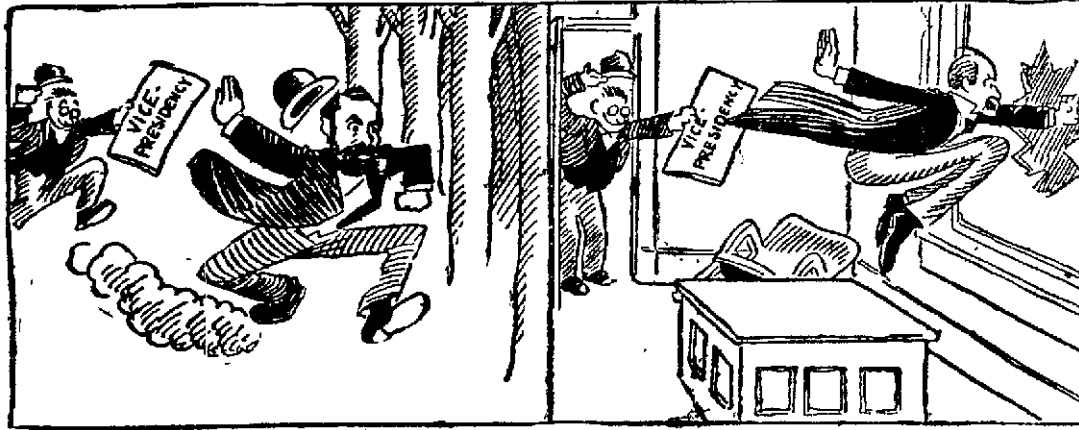

It's a wonder that Heney did not threaten to send the policemen who arrested him for exceeding the speed limit to the penitentiary. But perhaps he has discovered that his threats of sending people to jail only excite laughter.

If a few careless and reckless motormen were given terms in State prison there would be fewer street car accidents. Folly of a certain kind is deeply criminal, and the law should deal with it as such.

The Taft boom seems to be the real noise in politics.

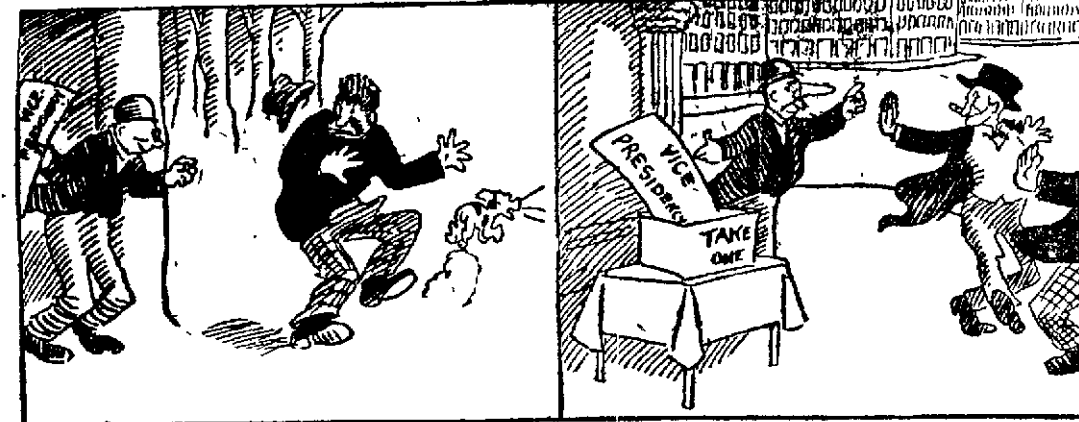

Heney's good goat, "ZOE," continues to be among those missing.

NO ONE SEEMS TO WANT THE VICE-PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

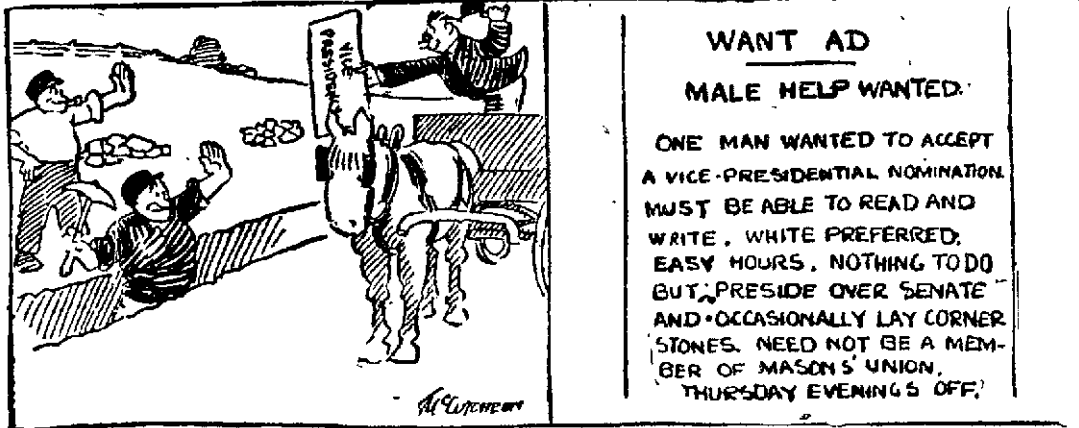

The committee appointed to secure a vice-presidential candidate approached Gov. Hughes, but not quick enough. The governor pleaded an important engagement, and when last seen, was departing in long strides to the tall timber.

The committee then called at the office of Mr. Fairbanks. By making a noise like a delegate admission was gained, but when Mr. F. observed the nomination he vaulted blithely through the window in search of help.

The committee then waylaid a permanent colored man who declined to wait long enough to listen to reason. He made the first hundred yards in bogy, and when last seen was twenty feet ahead of his shadow.

The committee then took a prominent position on a street corner and shouted his wares to the passerby. Mr. Knox and Mr. Cannon were invited to accept the nomination. Knox said: "Nix," and Cannon went off in great haste.

The committee then made a few more half-hearted efforts to dispose of the nomination, but without result.

A last resort.

Ruef and the Graft Prosecution

While, as has been said, the majority of the people believe in the guilt of the defendants, there are many reasons that contribute to the belief that there will be no more convictions obtained. In the first place, there is a strong impression which has become entertained almost generally in San Francisco that the graft bribery prosecutions and exposures has hurt the business and industrial interests of that city and have kept away capital that might otherwise have been invested there. Of course, this is a superficial and almost dishonest way for the people to view the prosecutions, but it is but human for the citizens to consider their apparent material welfare first. It is certain that if the prosecution had been able to rush the cases through the courts and obtained convictions at once, without so much playing to the grandstands on both sides, that it would have been better for the city, advertised it as a municipality that had thrown off official corruption and capital would have been attracted.

Another thing was the wholesale granting of immunity and the equivocation of the prosecution in regard to the immunity contract with Ruef. From these facts suspicion was created that the prosecution was actuated more by a desire to obtain the conviction of a few against whom personal prejudice was entertained than see that the nets of justice and law should entangle all who had been culpable.

The proceedings so far have been disappointing and with regrettable results. The outlook seems to indicate that in the end the accused will all eventually escape punishment and up-to-date most of them have been granted immunity by the prosecution.

That such immunity has been useless so far as obtaining any evidence of a direct nature is apparent from the fact that six of the jurors in this latter Ruef case refused to believe the testimony. In a way they are excusable for refusing to give credence to the testimony of the former supervisors for the very testimony of those supervisors show that they are men who violated their oath of office, played double with the men who paid them bribes and then grasped the opportunity to betray Ruef and Schmitz in order to save themselves from the consequences of the offenses in which they were involved themselves. The utterances of such men should be bolstered up by corroborative evidence.—Grass Valley Union.

HIS RECEPTION.
The numerous mosquitoes gathered enthusiastically around the secretary "Here's a candidate," they hummed, "exactly to our liking."
At the succeeding banquet it was agreed by all present that a very enjoyable time was had.

SOLVED BY A FIVE-YEAR-OLD.

At a breakfast table recently a father noticed the somewhat contemptuous looks bestowed upon the oatmeal and cream by several of the six children. Thinking to improve them, he said:

"I am sorry to see you do this. Papa works hard and cheerfully to provide for you, and you ought to be thankful for such good, wholesome food. If I were to die, how to you think mamma would ever fill the mouths of so many hungry boys and girls?"

There was a profound silence, and the faces were troubled for a moment, then the little fellow of all, a dear lad of 5 years, piped up:—"Oh, I know, what—mamma would get married again." That settled it.—New York Sun

FREE LOVE Among the Doukhobors REVEALS Shocking Depravity

PORT WILLIAM, Ont. — The local revolution against the Doukhobors who have tramped here from Saskatchewan has been increased by disclosures following upon the death of John Cain, one of their number.

According to Alexis, one of the band, Cain had been sick for three weeks and in that time all he had to eat was plums and dry bread. The band intended to place his body in the bushes, where it would be devoured by wild animals.

This is their custom and they believe it is the way God requires burials to be made.

No medical aid was summoned for Cain, as all believed Jesus would look after him. All Doukhobors are "brothers and sisters." They have one large family and believe in free love. Evidence of the rot-mortem examination of the deceased was given by Dr. C. C. Withrow. He stated that the organs of the man were in perfect condition, but, though he was six feet three inches tall, he weighed at the time of his death only 125 pounds, whereas the normal weight would have been in the neighborhood of 180 pounds. He was evidently suffering from pneumonia. He had not received any attention, and as his stomach was empty it appeared as though he had starved.

After hearing the evidence of Police Chief Dods as to the stopping of the funeral the jury adjourned to make an inspection of the Doukhobor house, on May street. Thirty of the pilgrims were found together in one room, while in a fourth smaller room upstairs fourteen persons were huddled together. Several of the band looked as if they were starving to death, while others had coughs which were almost bad enough to lead to the belief that consumption had taken hold of some of the members of the band.

The rooms were all in a high degree of temperature. After an inspection the jury returned to the courtroom, where the following verdict was brought in: "The jury, empanelled to inquire into the death of John Cain, find he died in a house known as the Doukhobors' house on May street, city of Port William, district of Thunder Bay, and that he died from a complication of causes, namely starvation and pneumonia, conditions being aggravated by most evident neglect and lack of medical attention."

The premises inhabited by the band, namely, a building 24x30, with a 14x18 addition, is large enough in all for possibly eighteen people at the most. In this area the jury found seventy-six men, women and children. In one room 14x18 there were fourteen inmates, all naked, and of both sexes, ranging from thirteen to fifty-five years of age.

A similar condition was found in other rooms of the house, where men and women in a nude condition were found together. They do not accept the marriage laws, but practice a system of free love, which, it is said, admits of practices which are not tolerated in any civilized community, and which they were not allowed to pursue in their own country.

Under this system children, of whom the jury found nineteen apparently bright and capable, are lost to their parents and grow up without proper restraint. The jury advised that these children at least be transferred from their present debasing surroundings to some suitable institution where they can be taught the principles of industry, morality and good citizenship. As for the adults, they do not appear to be amenable to reason and the jury could suggest no other solution than the breaking up of the community.

CRUEL AND HARD

'Smiling Suffragette' Believes in Prison System

Vera Wentworth is known as the "Smiling Suffragette," and so good is her temper that probably she smiled even during her six weeks in prison at Holloway, although she regarded the English prison system unnecessarily hard and cruel. The dress for prisoners of her division was of coarse, grey-green. A duster was used as a scarf, also as a handkerchief. A check apron and a small white cap, overlarge and exceedingly heavy and clumsy shoes, completed a costume which made the victim feel like an absurd caricature of "Miss Hook of Holland," and which was all to sufficient to make even a suffragette strangely meek.

Miss Wentworth's bed consisted of three wooden planks nailed together and raised about two inches from the stone floor; a hard thin mattress, a harder pillow, sheets, blankets of coarsest material, and all, like the costume, painfully marked with the significant broad arrow. The rising bell rang at 5 o'clock. At 5:30 the prisoners were let out to get water and to see, but not to converse, with their fellows. Breakfast next, followed by the scrubbing on the part of the prisoners of their cells with cold water and the cleaning of their various pots and pans with brickdust and soap.

Go to Chapel.

A long pause followed, then chapel. After chapel a second long pause, then an hour of exercise. The prisoners had to walk around the courtyard with two yards between each prisoner, and they were supposed to be unable to talk, although they always somehow managed to exchange words. In order to go through this lively performance without taking cold they were provided with small hooded capes, green and arrowed like the dresses.

Then back to the cells to make mail-bags. Dinner at 12, and more mail-bag making. Supper at 5, and then bed. If the standard of women's wages were raised throughout the country Miss Wentworth believes that Holloway prison would be half empty, and so would every other women's prison in the kingdom of Great Britain.

Princesses Chief Export of Montenegro

Montenegro Princesses are said to be one of that principality's chief articles of export. A little time ago a foreign diplomat commented upon the small amount of Montenegro's outgoing trade.

"You forget," said Prince Nicholas, turning sharply on him, "that Montenegro exports what most other countries are eager to obtain — handsome princesses." One of the Montenegrin princesses is queen of Italy, two are married to Russian grand dukes, another was the wife of King Peter of Servia while a fifth is wedded to Prince Francis Joseph of Battenberg.

Servants are a negligible quantity in Montenegro, so that even in the royal palace Princess Milena, who is an excellent housewife, generally provides for domestic comfort with her own royal hands. All the daughters were trained in housewifely arts at an early age.

Queen Helena of Italy, during her life at Cetinje, was obliged to dust the drawing rooms every day. But when Prince Nicholas observed that his daughters were undergoing training that would fit them for housewifely positions rather than for probable queens, he packed the three eldest off to school at St. Petersburg, where they were trained for more exalted positions and where later their great beauty won universal admiration.

SHE SMASHED MASHER

CHICAGO, May 25.—Mrs. Louise Rice of Chicago Heights, asked masher in State street, cuffed him about the ears, dragged and pushed him for a block and then turned him over to a policeman. He was Joseph Rusiele.

"He stopped me and smiled and said something which I did not understand," Mrs. Rice said. "I told him to let me alone and then continued on my way. He kept following me and talking."

"Then I struck him in the face three times and cut him with my rings. I took him by the collar and beat him until a policeman came up."

"He is not the first masher that I have chastised. My last experience was in Soney Island avenue a year ago. I did not have the masher arrested. I just beat him with an umbrella until he ran for all he was worth."

Mrs. Rice is 34 years old and attractive.

"Good Night!" Says Lovers' Alarm Clock

The lovers' alarm clock is a device to refresh the memories of happy couples who are too absorbed in each other to notice the passage of time. As the clock strikes 10 p. m. two little doors open and a small man in dressing-gown and cap glides out, holding in his hand a card with the device, "Good night!"

FLIRTATION OR SECRET MARRIAGE?

American Girl's Love Affair Interests All Paris

A story comes from the shores of the Seine about an intrigue or love affair, or what you will, the development and phases of which are eagerly watched by all the American fairies, as well as by Parisian smart society, since it concerns one of the loveliest and most popular American girls now living in Paris and the equally well-known son of a rich and prominent Frenchman, who was minister of agriculture during Loubet's presidency, and who is today the owner of the well-known Parisian daily paper, Le Petit Parisien.

The young American, whose home until the last few years was in a comfortable house in the East Sixties, between Fifth avenue and Madison avenue, New York, lives with her mother in a pretty flat, not miles away from the Bois de Boulogne, says Town Topics. She is the possessor of a sympathetic, admirably cultivated voice and of a charming face, rendered still more exquisite by the contrast of her youthful complexion, sparkling eyes and prematurely snow-white hair. Her manner, refinement, social attainments and an extraordinary gift for bridge, have endeared her to everybody in the American smart set of Paris and caused her to be much sought after by all those who now are trying to unravel the mystery surrounding her present actions. It seems to be a case of genuine love, the real, real thing, between the fair American and the young Frenchman, whose parents absolutely refuse to authorize his marriage, threatening to cut him off.

THE PLANS FOR THE BUILDING, IT IS SAID, ARE ALREADY COMPLETED AND THE SITE SELECTED.

IT IS WHEN FAILURE COMES

"The husband of a woman I know well had made a large settlement upon her, early in their married life, but when the financial crash came they were left almost penniless," says the author of "The Wives of the Pseudo Rich" in Everybody's. "I asked her what had become of the settlement, and she told me that her husband had got it all back from her when he was about to fail. Generally, indeed, this putting money in the wife's name is a perfect farce. Nine times out of ten the wife gives it back to him—she has to! Her position is intolerable otherwise. And the case is the same with money that she may have inherited. He tells her that this is only a crisis—and crises are constantly occurring in the history of such men—and one that can be safely passed if she will be a brick and come to his rescue with her securities. Suppose she weeps, begs and protests, and cites this case and that, in which the wife has given over her nest-egg, only to have it go with the rest? He knows all about business, and she knows nothing. He makes her

GIRL, COMPARED TO COW, SUES HER UNCLE

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—While she failed to prove that her uncle, John Applegate, a letter carrier, had sent her scurrilous and defamatory communications through the mail, Miss Florence E. Mitchell at least established beyond question the fact that she had been insulted.

From evidence which she produced in Quarter Sessions Court before Judge Carr, it seemed clear that some malicious person had intimated that she was like a mule, a cow, a pig or a goat, or that she was a club woman.

Miss Mitchell was indignant at these aspersions. She suspected her uncle because he and her mother had had a disagreement over the will of her grandfather, and she believed Applegate just the man to do such a spiteful thing.

She showed two postal cards in court. In one a cow was shown looking out of a stable door, a mule was looking around the corner of the barn and beneath the picture of the cow were a hog and a goat. The sender, with the essence of malice, had written underneath: "Everything here reminds me of you—at times, when you look silly."

Miss Mitchell said she didn't know exactly what the card meant, but was positive it was intended for anything but a compliment.

The other offending card showed a woman making a speech. She was standing on a platform, her mouth wide open, one hand resting on a table, while the other was clawing the air, and her foot upsetting a chair behind her. This pic-

Moths Still Flit About the Candle

The brighter the candle, it goes without saying, the more numerous are the moths. All of which is to the point that some of the men of prominence who, on one pretense or another have been seeking the intimate acquaintance of Evelyn Thaw had better use more discretion, says Town Topics. Broadway is full of stories of multi-millionaires who have held out a sympathetic hand to the little Nesbitt. If these men only knew that the only plaintive songs which warm the cockles of her heart are those from the throat of Jack Barrymore they would probably ease up. She may or may not have dined twice, or frequently, with Ed Thomas, but I'm sure the incident in no way affected the standing of Ethel Barrymore's devoted brother.

Louise Cox is the California wife of Kenyon Cox and a winner of a number of prizes as an artist in her own name. She paints small decorative pictures and portraits, mostly of children. She is an earnest worker and uses an interesting method. Each picture is the result of many sketches and the study of many models, representing in a composite way the perfection of all. The hands and faces are separately sketched from a model which has a peculiar grace in folding them naturally.

TUBERCULOSIS EXPERT WOULD BAR BY LAW MARRIAGE OF CONSUMPTIVES

PHILADELPHIA.—Men and women suffering from tuberculosis should not be permitted to marry.

Such sufferers as do marry and bear children should have their children taken away from them.

"These things may seem cruel. To the patients they are cruel, but society must protect itself, and I firmly believe that laws covering one or the other of these contingencies will come day be enacted." These sentiments were expressed by one of the best-known authorities on tuberculosis in Philadelphia—by Dr. James C. Wilson, of the faculty of Jefferson Medical College. He was addressing, in an amphitheater of the Jefferson Hospital, the sixty-five delegates of the convention of Pennsylvania county medical inspectors, who were gathered there in the second of their two days' convention for the advancement of the anti-tuberculosis crusade, and his announcement was received with applause by all present.

Children Diseased.

Dr. Wilson's announced topic was "Tuberculosis in Children," and he began by praising Dr. Dixon and the State board of Health, of which that physician is the head.

"It is a fortunate thing for Pennsylvania," said Dr. Wilson, "that the commonwealth has such a man in such a place. He is a man who accomplishes, far more than that, he is a man who can teach others to accomplish."

girls from the out-patient department of Jefferson.

"What part," he continued, "does the child play in the dissemination of tuberculosis? I assure you, a very important part. We will never have a proper understanding of this disease until we thoroughly appreciate that fact."

Two Fallacies.

"I firmly believe that the successful fight against tuberculosis has been delayed by two fallacies. I speak of the doctrine that tuberculosis is hereditary and the doctrine of the so-called pre-tubercular stage."

"In a strictly scientific sense there can be no such thing as hereditary tuberculosis. The independent individual created is not subject from birth to such influences as those of tuberculosis. In every case the infection must take place after birth."

"Nor is the habit of body conducive to tuberculosis a departure from the normal. We must all understand that. The narrow chest, the peculiar anatomical or physiological conditions in such cases are not a predisposition toward the disease, but are, instead, the traces left by tuberculosis acquired in infancy."

Burying Infection in Body.

"It is injected at a tender age does not necessarily show the infection immediately. Often it is not shown for years and it may be latent for an indefinite period. This is true because, at its start, the disease is always minutely local. I believe that most of us carry in our system some latent infection, and some of this is eventually freed, escapes into the blood channels or elsewhere, and, lodging in lungs, joints or kidneys, causes tuberculosis of those portions of the body."

"Thus you will see how necessary is a campaign of education. The tubercular girl who marries is almost certain to infect her children, if only by a kiss, so that laws should be passed to prevent the marriage of sufferers, or, in any event, the child of a tubercular patient should be removed from danger. That such laws will be formulated I firmly believe."

"Fads in the treatment of tuberculosis are common enough, as you all know. I do not believe, for instance, that every one of the millions of sufferers from tuberculosis can comfortably digest four quarts of milk and a dozen raw eggs every day. We should remember that our patients are individuals and study them individually."

"One thing, however, may be said of us all. Well or sick, we are the better for sleeping in the open air, and it will not be long before architects will reduce tuberculosis tremendously by designing our houses so that the beds can at night be rolled out into the open."

Other Lectures.

At 10:45 in the morning the delegates went into the Medico-Chirurgical hospital, where Dr. James M. Anders lectured on "Tuberculosis of the Viscera and Serious Cavities." Illustrating his talk with the exhibition of a half-dozen cases of pneumonia-hydrothorax, dry pleurisy and tuberculosis of the kidneys, etc. After that came Dr. Wilson's lecture at the Jefferson Hospital and luncheon at the University Club. In the afternoon Dr. Joseph S. Notz, director of the board of public health and charities, took a party of delegates to the new municipal hospital for contagious diseases, Second street and Luzerne avenue, and in the evening gave a shad dinner at Gloucester, whether the guests went in the fireboat Ashbridge.

Woman's Prison.

There is a woman's prison in Roumania that has only woman officials.

When the Lean Year maid proposes, I wonder how it is— Does she get down upon her knees? Or does she get on his?

Consumption in Monkeys. Also in the afternoon Dr. Herbert Fox, to whom the success of the social side of this conference has been largely due, took a number of visitors to the Zoological Gardens. Here, under Dr. Arthur Irwin Brown, secretary of the Zoological Society, Dr. Fox has been for nearly three years studying the question of tuberculosis in monkeys, and he explained to his guests the results of that study.

"Every monkey that comes in here," he said, "is subject to the tuberculin test. Tuberculin is the soluble poisonous product of the bacillus of tuberculosis. This is injected under the skin of the monkey. Unless the animal is treated is so full of tuberculosis as to be overpowered, so to speak, with bacilli, the result of the injection is to raise the temperature if the animal has the disease, whereas there will be no reaction at all if it doesn't have it."

At Municipal Hospital.

When we find that a monkey has tuberculosis, we kill it, in order to prevent its handling the disease to its fellows, and no monkey sufferer is allowed to go on exhibition. We get from twenty-five to fifty new monkeys every year, for they do not breed well in captivity, and, as a result of our work, only three cases of tuberculosis developed last year, although, before we began our work there used to be from twenty to thirty per annum. Excepting the bovidae, or cow family, the monkey is the most susceptible to tuberculosis of all the lower animals."

Dr. Notz's party at the new Municipal Hospital was markedly impressed with the director's exposition of the plan and scope of that plant. On all hands expressions of admiration were heard, and not a few of the visiting physicians were announced to learn of the delay of aquella in furnishing funds to complete the work.

At a special meeting of the delegates at the Bellevue-Stratford in the morning, Dr. Robert S. Nelson presiding, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, it has pleased Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, commissioner of health of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to call his medical inspectors together from this great commonwealth to fix our relations more closely to him and mutually to ourselves;

"Resolved, That we, the county medical inspectors of the State of Pennsylvania, most heartily acknowledge our appreciation of his wise purpose and the very generous hospitality shown us by Dr. and Mrs. Dixon at their home. We share his enthusiasm in the great sanitary work of which he is the leader, and pledge in the future, as in the past, our hearty co-operation."

WILL INVESTIGATE PLUMBER'S DEATH

Thought to Be the Victim of Knockout Drops—Police
Becoming Very Active.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The police will begin an investigation this morning into the peculiar death of John Grace, 40 years old, a plumber, who lives at 133 Tiffany avenue, and who was taken to the central emergency hospital in a dying condition from a saloon at Twenty-ninth and Mission streets at 8:30 last evening.

Grace died at 1 o'clock this morning without regaining consciousness. It is supposed from poisoning, but Dr. Zumbach, who treated him, was unable to determine just what kind of poison was used, and it is thought that the man may have been the victim of an overdose of knockout drops.

Very little could be learned about the affair at the saloon where it occurred, as Grace, with several friends, came in only a few moments before he was taken ill.

POLICE RAID AN OPIUM JOINT AND CATCH 14

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Policemen Rocca and Sullivan of the central station made a raid this morning at 3 a. m. on an opium joint at 673 Broadway and succeeded in arresting the keeper, Fred Wilson, and fourteen smokers.

The officers have been watching Wilson's place for several weeks, believing he was evading the law by selling opium and were convinced that he had several women patrons. Watching their chance, they swooped down upon him this morning. No women, however, were among the smokers.

MUSICAL COMEDY WINS AT ORPHEUM

Helen Bertram and Her Company Given Great Reception by Theater-goers.

It is not often that a vaudeville bill offers so many beautiful women, so many talented artists, clever comedians, acrobats, mimics, jugglers and talented stars as are on the program at the Orpheum this week.

Helen Bertram surprised her admirers yesterday by producing a beautiful musical comedy wherein several artists appeared in her support. It had been supposed that she would sing alone, but instead she appeared in a dainty musical comedy, which had a well-defined plot and excellent score, and some very effective situations. George Axles wrote the comedy, which he called "My Aunt's Visit." Blanche Bates played it in other years and Miss Bertram now uses it by permission of both Artists and Miss Bates.

Crowds Captivated.

Helen Bertram never looked lovelier than in the character she takes in this play. Her beautiful face and form, and the voice that has in other years thrilled and enchanted thousands, combined yesterday to captivate the crowds. It is not often that an artist gets so genuine a reception as that which was accorded Miss Bertram, and few of them are more entitled to such an ovation as that which was accorded her when the curtain fell on her pretty sketch.

An English novelty act, that of the Six English Rockers, headed by Nellie Floreffe, proved to be a unique bit of stage stuff. Miss Floreffe and her six English rockers went through a variety of fast movements, and showed their cleverness in a very picturesque way, and incidentally singing some very catchy songs. Miss Floreffe might add to the attractiveness of her act by dressing the part with more sumptuous, but any lack in this regard was more than made up by the beautiful effect created when the six rockers came and were through their revolutions in uncovered chairs, with soft electric lights playing upon them, and the orchestra adding the witchery of music to the ensemble.

Swift Comedians.

"Snap" is the best word to use, perhaps, in describing the act of Swift and Campbell, who are billed as "rapid fire comedians." These chaps work like demons.

Some rather old-fashioned juggling was offered by Cole and Rags. There is a suggestion of British humor in their performance, but at that the gallery took considerable satisfaction in the act and the downstage crowd was apparently diverted.

Leo Carrillo, a clean-cut chap, told some good dialect stories and showed a wonderful wit of mind.

There were only three acts held over from the last week's bill, these being the slight Bedouin Arabs, Shields and Rogers, the "Cowboy and the Indian," and Rockaway and Conway, who sing and talk in more or less amusing ways.

Some new imported Orpheum pictures were shown.

POLICEMAN HAS HIS STAR STOLEN

Burglar Removes Money From Under Sleeping Detective's Pillow.

CHICAGO, May 25.—A burglar with a humorous turn of mind, who picked up his victim a detective noted in his district as an expert "thief catcher," is one of Chicago's latest acquisitions. The midnight prowler broke into the policeman's room while he lay asleep in bed, appropriating diamond cuff buttons, stick pins, other articles of jewelry and some cash which he found under the detective's pillow.

The thief added insult to injury—he left the policeman's gun, not even removing the cartridges before he left, but took his star.

Detective Sergeant Percy Reynolds was the victim of the midnight raid. William Levy, alias George Davis, a negro, under arrest, is said to be the burglar. Reynolds asserts he was chloroformed before he was robbed.

Ink-Throwing Ruins Gown.—Mrs. J. Magnin of 1808 Jackson street reported to the police yesterday that some one had thrown ink all over the back of her gown while she was walking along Broadway, near Van Ness avenue, in the company of several friends. Resents Name of Scab.—James Quigley, inspector in the employ of the United Railroads, was badly beaten and later arrested yesterday as a result of an altercation at the French masquerade ball in the Auditorium. Quigley entered the hall in company with another employee of the road, both of whom were in uniform. Some one started to call them "scabs!" A fight started and Quigley drew a revolver.

Peddler's Injuries Fatal.—Nicholas Kostan, a peddler who was thrown from his wagon and run over at the corner of Polk and Golden Gate avenue on Saturday morning, died yesterday.

WILKINS NERVOUS WHEN IN COURT

Sentencing of Woman's Slayer Postponed for Week by Attorney's Request.

Mark A. Wilkins was not sentenced this morning in Superior Judge Melvin's court. His attorney, Hugh McIsaac, being in the case, asked for a week and with the consent of the District Attorney's office the case was postponed.

Wilkins, who faces a sentence of death, was convicted of a charge of murdering his putative wife, Mrs. Verne Gamm, was in court early and listened to the proceedings with apparent interest.

When the case was called, however, he started to arise from his seat, not voicing his attorney in court. One of McIsaac's representatives was present, however, and Wilkins resumed his seat.

Wilkins then sat and nervously tapped his clenched fist on the table. When asked by Judge Melvin if he consented to a week's continuance, he answered that he was agreeable to anything that his attorney suggested.

MINER RECOVERS STOLEN CHECK

Gives Paper to Stranger to Bet on "Sure Thing." Then Rushes to Police.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—E. R. Rogers, alias Stanley, was arrested this morning by Detectives Bonner and Freese and booked at the city prison. Rogers is accused of bouncing E. H. Mills, a mining man from Nevada, out of a certified check for $250, and when he was searched the document was found on his person. Mills arrived in the city on Saturday and met Rogers at the ferry. The latter "went mad" himself into the mining man's good graces, and proposed a pleasure trip to Vallejo.

While they were on the bay Rogers suggested that Mills play a surething horse which was to run at the Oakland racetrack in the afternoon, and according to the $250-certified check changed hands. On the arrival of the pair at Vallejo Rogers disappeared and Mills returning to this city, made a report to the police, which resulted in the arrest of the confidence man.

Mills is overjoyed at the recovery of his money and returned today to his Nevada home.

MISS GREY TO APPEAR IN FITCH'S PLAY 'THE TRUTH'

An event of unusual theatrical importance will take place at the Macdonough Theater for one week commencing Sunday, May 31, when Katharine Grey will appear in the head of a cast of artists in Clyde Fitch's international success, "The Truth." The company appearing with Miss Grey has been assembled with great care to individual fitness for the play assumed in this society drama. In the East "The Truth" has been pronounced not only Clyde Fitch's masterpiece, but one of the greatest dramas of the country. It has been translated into five different languages and has been produced with enormous success in Germany, France, Russia and other European countries. It is expected that the initial audience will not only be large, but that it will be fashionable and distinguished.

The leading woman herself is a California girl and will be welcomed by many old-time friends who have watched her eastern career with pleasure.

Many competent critics have declared Miss Grey to be the equal of the great artist in the interpretation of society roles and in the delineation of the modern school of dramatic writers, like those in Ibsen's, Sudermann's and Pinero's days.

IS GOING TO FIX A SAFETY VALVE FOR THE VESUVIUS

(By PAUL VILLIERS.)

PARIS, May 23.—An Italian scientist, Signor Coarmino, proposes to supply a safety valve for Vesuvius.

When the outlet of a volcano becomes choked with solidified lava it is always possible that the next eruption may shatter the mountain to pieces, a fate which actually befell the volcano of Krakatoa some years ago.

His idea is to tap the mountain by boring a tunnel in the base and letting the lava escape into the sea.

Nor need the molten lava be wasted. It could, he points out, be run into moulds and made into blocks for use in the streets and quays of Naples.

USES TEAM TO AID IN ROBBERY

Burglar Loading Wagon at Midnight With Stolen Goods When Arrested.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Caught in the act of plundering the store of Hulse, Bradford & Company, 789 Harrison street, shortly after midnight, Thomas Lane was arrested by Detectives Regan and O'Connell, and charged with burglary.

Lane had forced an entrance to the back door of the warehouse and after backing a two-horse team to the curb, was loading it to its fullest capacity with merchandise when the detectives happened along. He explained that he had been given permission and instructions to take away the goods, but could not account for his presence there at that unseasonable hour of the night.

This morning it was learned that Lane is not known to the proprietors of the firm and the opportunist arrival of the detectives prevented the loss of close to $1000 in goods.

Hitchcock was represented by W. E. Dean. Kerr was defended by Tom Bradley.

Judge Quinn entered judgment for $135 in favor of Hitchcock.

ANOTHER AIRSHIP IS TO BE CONSTRUCTED SOON

Inventor Morrell and Backers Undaunted Action Greatly Surprises City Officials

BERKELEY, May 25.—Inventor John A. Morrell and his backers declare that they intend to persevere in their efforts to master the science of aerial navigation and that they will build another airship as soon as men and money can accomplish the work.

Clarence E. Volmer of Berkeley declares that he will not permit another trial of such a contrivance as the one made by Morrell which collapsed last Saturday within the limits of his ball-wire.

"There are other places besides Berkeley and anyway we prefer to keep away from the crowd," is the response of Alexander Otis, one of the prominent supporters of Morrell.

May Build in Country.

So it may be found necessary for the company to build the next airship in the country, but according to the promoters of the scheme this would be no inconvenience to them, as they have confidence in the correctness of their theory. They believe they have the proper principles back of their invention and are not discouraged.

Will Not Give Up.

In discussing the proposition of making another trial Otis said: "We won't give up this airship project, even if we have to wait a dozen years to get the money. It's a great invention and Saturday's accident, after all, was only an experiment in our work. We have profited by what we learned and our next flight will be a great success."

Otis is in charge of the Morrell Airship Company's interests during the enforced absence of its injured founder and president. He didn't participate in last Saturday's disastrous trip, and it is doubtful if he will go on the next expedition into the air.

Otis talks in exactly the same vein as Morrell who, on his bed at the Roosevelt hospital, reiterates his intention of sticking to his last until he has conquered the air. Despite broken bones Morrell has sublime faith in his invention. Otis declares that the Morrell Airship Company will never cease to exist until the success of the machine is demonstrated to a scoffing world.

At Boulevard Gardens.

"We expect to commence building a new airship at Boulevard Gardens, between Berkeley and Point Richmond," said Otis. "The machine which collapsed cost us $40,000, but our next airship will mean an expenditure of fully $100,000. We haven't the money now, but we expect to get it. I do not intend to give the public the name of our backers, for it is none of the public's business. This is a private venture, and nobody has ever been solicited to invest one cent in its stock."

On Same Lines.

"Our next airship will be constructed along the same lines as the one which we tried to send up Saturday. It will, however, have several important modifications, which will make impossible another accident of the kind which occurred at that time. We have the designs drawn for our new machine, and it will be a beauty, safe, swift and perfect. It will demonstrate to the world that Morrell has the correct theory for aerial navigation, and the principle of propulsion will come to him in this generation, his fame will be assured."

Otis asserted yesterday that the construction of last Saturday's airship was faulty, but he excused this reckless disregard of the principle of caution by saying that the accident had to be made at that time and with that flimsy balloon in order to appease impatient stockholders, who had placed a time limit on Morrell's experiments. The subscriptions of these unknown persons had been made on the understanding that a successful ascent in the airship would be made before a given date. Hence a cheap cloth balloon was hastily patched up to meet the emergency, and the daredevil band of aeronauts confident that they could make their flight without displaying the weakness of their machine, essayed that trial trip which ended in disaster.

Save Million a Day.

"Somebody will see what the possibilities of this invention are," says Otis. "Why? If we had $100,000,000 we could save the United States government a million dollars a day. We would do away with the navy and put all the battleships on the junk heap. With airships which could travel 100 miles an hour at an altitude of 20,000 feet, we could laugh at the assembled navies of the world and this country would be assured of lasting peace with the other powers."

Morrell Censured.

Otto Whipple, in charge of the third engine, near whom Morrell stood guiding the ship, told his story. Whipple praised Morrell for the accident but blamed his courage. He said: "Morrell was cocky up to the very time that the bag was being filled with the gas. Then his eyes became bloodshot and his face swollen and one could see that he was slightly out of his head with the excitement attending the final preparations for the flight. He was overworked and overwrought in his anxiety to free the ship from the guy ropes, and when I look over what happened—that which was bound to happen, I see now—Morrell and his whole crew should have been sent to an insane asylum. The lives of the men in the car, who were inclosed by the netting which developed the bag and hardly had a way of escape except through the holes near the engines. The men were not thought of by Morrell. I am glad that I escaped with my life and shall never go up in an airship again unless the ordinary precautions are taken."

Employees Criticized.

Members of the crew were not as reticent as some of the officers of the company in talking of the causes of Saturday's wreck. The insufficient filling with gas of the first and of the balloon and the flimsy character of its covering were accounted the reasons for the fiasco.

Morrell in talking about the accident has made the statement that his own employees were responsible for the accident. Some of them he said, tried to stow away on the air craft and this distracted his attention. Then the others, according to Morrell, did not obey his orders. When the airship left the ground, he said, the front engine began to rise above the stern, he gave orders to let go the holding ropes below that the equilibrium might be restored. This, he says, was not done, causing the gas to go to the rear end and the bag to burst.

Morrell said that the spectators shouting also made it impossible for his orders to be heard by the crew below him. The wings used as propellers were the right principle, according to Morrell, and the engines were good, but the holding of the ropes threw the steering gear out of use before it broke the bag. This also destroyed the control of the volume of gas.

He believed that the accident, which he has charged on him by his stockholders, was made before he had mastered certain principles connected with the ship, although he maintained in conversation at the Roosevelt hospital that he had the correct general theory of solving the problem of aerial navigation.

MARTINEZ WILL HONOR HEROES

Elaborate Program Arranged for Memorial Day, With Judge Melvin as Orator.

MARTINEZ, May 25.—Martinez has had for years a most elaborate celebration of Memorial Day, but this year's observance of the festival this year will exceed all its predecessors in many ways. It will be on a larger scale and there will be a greater attendance here than there ever has been before. One of the reasons for this is the fact that the observance of the day is to be Judge Harry A. Melvin of Oakland, one of the most popular judges in the superior court of the State, and who is one of the delegates at large from California to the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

The meeting will be called to order by S. M. Carr, who is chairman of the joint committee. J. L. Lynn is the secretary.

BREWER PLEADS GUILTY TO VIOLATING LIQUOR LAW

Action Greatly Surprises City Officials

BERKELEY, May 25.—The Berkeley prohibition ordinance is apparently a serious affair for the liquor interests. Joseph Raspieler, proprietor of the American Brewery on San Pablo avenue, went into the police court this morning, after pleading guilty to the charge of maintaining a place where liquor may be sold, and was fined $300. At the same time E. J. Weber, a driver for Raspieler, entered an plea of guilty to the charge of selling and delivering liquor and was fined $100.

Raspieler's change of front proved a great surprise to the town officials. When the arrest was made he declared that he intended to fight the ordinance, and it was believed that the courts would be called on to pass upon some of the more questions involved in some of the clauses.

Attorneys Brewster A. Hyne and M. C. Chapman were employed and the same were out for a big legal struggle. Chapman, because of his connection with the defense of the so-called graft prosecutions in San Francisco, has been unable to give any personal attention to the case and Hayna has been the active attorney in the court work.

The Raspieler and Weber donation to the treasury during the fines collected from liquor cases for the present month up to $1000, and there is still pending the case of Sam Morris, a driver for the Goldberg-Brown company.

HONORS PAID TO NEVADA'S DEAD GOVERNOR

Impressive Services by Elks of Reno in Memory of the late John Sparks.

RENO, Nev., May 25.—In the presence of thousands of mourners the funeral of the late Governor John Sparks of Nevada was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the portico of the Elks Home in this city. The services were conducted by the officers of the Elk lodge, Supreme Judge Frank H. Norcross delivering a beautiful eulogy.

Following the services at the Elks Home, the cortege formed and while all the bells in the city tolled in unison the remains were escorted to the Masonic cemetery and placed in a tomb. The procession was composed of fraternal and civic bodies, the governor's staff, mounted State police, county officials, members of the family and friends.

RENEW EFFORTS ON CURRENCY QUESTIONS

Both Houses of Congress Anxious to Reach Understanding on Financial Legislation.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The postponement of the final adjournment of Congress has had the effect of causing a renewal of the efforts to bring about an understanding between the two houses on the currency question.

There were no formal conferences today, but there have been several changes of views among individual members of the senate committee on finance and the house committee on banking and currency with the result that an informal proposition has been made for adjournment which would include some of the provisions of both the Aldrich and Vreeland bills.

Proposed Compromise.

It is now suggested that the house might be brought to accept the emergency bond provision of the senate bill provided the asset feature of the house bill in modified form could be incorporated in the proposed compromise measure.

It is said that the house would agree to a very strict definition of the character of commercial paper to be used as security for the issuance of currency and the senate has been canvassed to

NOT TO EXTEND DOUBLE TRACK

Only Single Track to Connect Hayward With Meeks on Oakland Traction.

Inquiries were made at THE TRIBUNE office today by people residing in the line of the Oakland Traction Company between the Berry, McKel property and the town of Hayward as to whether it was the intention of that corporation to ever extend the double track of the system beyond the Meeks ranch to Hayward.

Connected with this request, was a statement by other that the improvement was to be carried out immediately.

Inquiries made on the subject by a representative of THE TRIBUNE show that the proposed extension is as far in advance and, in fact, there is nothing to show that the extension to Hayward is under consideration.

Inquiry at the office of E. A. Horn, president of the company, resulted in the information that the gentlemen in was out of town.

Frank C. Havens, of the same company, said that he had heard nothing of the proposed improvement and that he did not think that there was any evidence to be given that there was any intention to extend the line to Hayward.

DEDICATE NEW HOME FOR TENNIS PLAYERS

BERKELEY, May 25.—The Berkeley Tennis Club dedicated its new house and grounds at Hillside avenue and Parker street Saturday afternoon. Light refreshments were served. From the clubhouse porch the visitors watched the exhibition games which followed.

some extent for the purpose of ascertaining whether the proposition was acceptable.

It is realized that it would be quite impossible to secure action in the favor of any very stubborn opposition by even one or two senators and it would be necessary to secure an advance practically unanimous consent to the passage of the bill. It also would be necessary to have almost all the Republican members of the house support the measure and it remains to be seen whether this can be done.

The plan is still in an incipient state but the next day or two will serve to demonstrate whether it can be put into execution.

BURGLARS ACT PROMPTLY AND LOOT A BIG SALOON

It Looks as if It Was Done by Professionals

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The short interval of twenty minutes was sufficient time for a brace of bold burglars to break open the front door of the saloon of Gasaway & Wood at 49 Stockton street, smash the cash register and make away with $12.50 in cash and a quantity of goods. Special officer E. D. Murphy found the door securely locked when he passed on his rounds at 2:40 a. m.
At 3 o'clock he tried the door again and found it open. The burglars had worked with the quickness and precision characteristic of old hands at the game. The door had been systematically jammed, the cash register smashed by a blow with a hatchet and as much goods as could be carried by two men taken away.

A little later in the morning the same officer discovered the marks of a jimmy against the door of the saloon of Lundstead & Company, at the corner of O'Farrell and Stockton streets just a few doors from where the first burglary had been successfully carried through. The lock on the latter place is harder to open than the other and it is supposed the men became frightened at the approach of the policeman and were unable to complete their work.
As soon as the first robbery was discovered Sergeant Nolting, Policeman Reed and Special Officer Murphy made a search of the neighborhood but were unable to locate the burglars.

TO ATTEMPT TO PROVE THEORY OF SEX CONTROL

Claims Experiments Have Been Successful

NEW YORK, May 25.—With the approval of professors of chemistry, the encouragement of some of the leading physicians of the country and the backing of the government, Amos S. Jerwan of New York and Paris is going to make a practical demonstration to show that he can control the birth of sex.

While more than five hundred theories of various kinds have been advanced during the last century on this much disputed question, little real progress has been made toward solving the problem.

Jerwan, who lives at 145 West Twenty-second street, and has devoted twelve years to the sex problem, declares he has proved his power to control the sex in one hundred cases in New York, while his uncle Dr. A. Saliby of Paris has demonstrated his power five hundred times.

To Perform Experiments.

Jerwan had a long conference with Dr. George Leen Curtis today and a second with Marston Bogart, the president of chemistry in the University of Columbia. Both men were greatly interested in his statements and said his theories seemed to be based on sound principles.
"The fact that New England has a great preponderance of the female sex," said Jerwan "is the reason that section will be the first place to carry on the work in a semi-public manner."

He has appealed to the government, through President Roosevelt, who is much interested. I am to be permitted to make some demonstrations in Springfield, Mass. but the work will be among cattle at first.

I have the list of 100 families in New York that have been good enough to assist science in this work. Of course it is impossible for me to make the names public today. However, I have given the names of different professors who have made a most careful investigation of my claims. They have found that each point is true.

Has Chemical Compound.

With the aid of chemistry I have discovered a compound. If we want a male child the male takes the preparation for a matter of twelve days. If a female child is desired the female takes the preparation. The principle is that to bring a male into the world the male must be the stronger parent.
Think what this would mean in a war like the late struggle of Japan and Russia. The male population is reduced to a low ebb. It can be renewed if our theories are followed.

BALLY TONIGHT IN HONOR OF DELEGATES

Prohibitionists Will Give the Alameda County Delegation a Rousing Send-Off.

Vocal and instrumental solos will intersperse the exercises. The Rev. Edwin S. Stucker will be the chief speaker.

Such A Nose

It was an ill-shaped nose—there was no doubt about it.

It turned, it twisted, it kinked, it was fat on one side and thin on the other, it had irregular bony projections.

Its owner had tried many times to get nose glasses. The regular spectacle with its over-the-ear supports irritated the sides of his face and made him nervous.

But all the nose glasses he tried fell promptly from his face.

Finally he bought a RETFO, the new mounting introduced by Chinn-Beretta.

And the RETFO stayed on his nose and brought comfort to his eyes.

BROOKLYN BRIDGE 25 YEARS OLD YESTERDAY

American Flags Flung to Breeze to Commemorate Opening of Traffic.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Twenty-five years ago yesterday there occurred one of the wonders of the world. It was the opening of May 24, 1883 with a great demonstration of that event, American flags were flung to the breeze yesterday from the top of the great stone tower.

While the record of the number of persons crossing the bridge is no longer kept, the number of trolley cars alone crossing gives a fair idea of the traffic. Between three and four thousand cars now cross the bridge every day and each car seats sixty persons, therefore the passengers in these alone would be about 200,000 per day or over 70,000,000 a year. In the first year that the cable road operated a total of $2,232,000 passengers was considered enormous. Ten times in the first five years is the measure of the increase.

On Decoration Day, 1933 a woman at the New York tower a flight of stairs and a crash which resulted in the death of twelve persons. This is the most appalling of the accidents in the long life of the structure.

The total expenditures for maintenance and operation of the bridge up to the close of 1907 was $21,213,600 and the total receipts were $21,267,084.

LEADING MAN FOR MISS RUSSELL DIES

NEW YORK, May 25.—Boyd Putnam, leading man this season for the Lillian Russell Company, died yesterday at the home of his brother-in-law, Lyman Erwin, at Irvington N. Y., from Bright's disease. W. Putnam became ill in Rochester early in March and retired from the stage. He was a son of Judge Putnam of Grand Rapids, Mich., and a descendant of General Israel Putnam of revolutionary fame.

Stop Don't Wink— But keep both eyes wide open

Many thousand people have winked at the grocer during the past ten days. In response they have received a generous sample of Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes. And they were delighted. It gave them an idea of how delicious a breakfast food could be.

Over 100 men were engaged to issue the invitations and see that all grocers were supplied with "wink ammunition."

The result was a most phenomenal demand for the new breakfast food. We venture to say that fully one-half the people of the city had Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes for breakfast this morning. And most of them will continue to enjoy it for breakfast.

But every great success has imitators.

The real purpose of this advertising campaign is to guard you against substitution; we want to impress upon your mind the name "Kellogg's," familiarize you with the package and signature of W. K. Kellogg and thoroughly acquaint you with the delicious flavor of the genuine—Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes.

For they may imitate the box—they may copy the name, but they cannot copy the Flavor.

It's the flavor that won its favor. It will win your favor and it will hold it. So when you want the real Toasted Corn Flakes, be sure and call for and

Insist on getting the GENUINE — Kellogg's

Embezzled From U. S.; Gets 3 Years

MANILA, May 25.—F. C. Peters, formerly pay clerk on the gunboat Rainbow who was arrested on May 12 on the charge of embezzling $3000, pleaded guilty and has been sentenced to three years and four months in Bilibid prison. Counsel for the defendant declared in court that he believed Peters' family in New Orleans would make restitution of the sum embezzled by him.

A Californian's Luck.
